Sophomores had to wear hats

Sophomores were welcomed to North in a different fashion when Hello Week was shortened to two days.

Upperclassmen registered early on September 8 with sophomores following in the afternoon.

On Friday, September 10, students filed into the gym for the annual Hello Assembly. There sophomores were adorned with the latest in paper hats while juniors and seniors anticipated the traditional filbert race. This first pep assembly opened with the Lassies performing to "Be True to Your School."

Among the activities was a filbert race and inner tube roll in which a "lucky" Debbie Collins was rewarded for winning the race when senior Dave Driscoll presented her with the traditional Highlander Kiss. According to sophomore Debbie Collins, "I was really embarrassed, especially when everybody gave me a bad time about it."

The Highlander football season opened that night with a bus ride to Marshfield where the Clan destroyed Pirates' hopes with a 17-0 victory.

Winding up the week on Saturday night was the Hello Dance, with the band Quixotic. A good turnout helped start what was hoped would be the best year ever.

Sophomores Keith Winterbottom, Greg Holstrom, Rick Shannon and David Richardson are greeted with many filberts in the traditional filbert race.

Barney Holland keeps things under control during registration.

Sophomores seem to have a way of standing out in any crowd.

Dave Driscoll shows sophomore Debbie Collins that seniors have the "know how."

Karen Hollis and Rodger Bates boogie to Quixotic at the Hello Dance.

Making plans to outsmart a Willamette Wolverine are Little Red Riding Hood Sue Thompson and "Coach" Tracey Berry.

Junior Ron Jarrett takes a lot of razzing from the senior section as he talks about the game.

Judy Cage shows how shabby Churchill's armor really is.

Lassies ham it up as they imitate the South Eugene "Synchronetts."

Linda Holmes gets tough as she shows the Millers her stuff.

Fall assemblies spark spirit

The football season was brightened by numerous imaginative assemblies designed to build spirit. Songs, yells, and skits by the Rally contributed to the success of the assemblies. Lassies performed several routines to various songs including mimicking the South Eugene Synchronetts doing "Rockin' Robin."

Cowboys, knights in shining armor and even Little Red Riding Hood were all part of the many spirited assemblies, that developed from the creative minds of the JV and Varsity Rally.

In one of the many assemblies, the Rally portrayed riders of a bus. The driver dressed like an Arab, picked up the defeated players of other teams. All were downtrodden except a Springfield Miller who as usual was devastated by SUPER NORTH.

Homecoming: Again a tradition

The traditional Homecoming week took place during the week of November 1-6.

Festivities began on Monday with a kick off assembly where rally members introduced the highlights to come.

Tuesday was T-shirt day when student wore a variety of North T-shirts. The homecoming court was also selected. The five senior girls chosen were Darlene Baltrusch, Kelly Donahue, Kathy Eyre, Val Stursa and Tracy Berry. Later that evening a pizza party was held at Poppa's Pizza Parlour.

On Wednesday, it was dress alike day. Students chose other people to dress like in various costumes such as football players, Mickey and Minnie Mouse, and teeny-boppers. That evening a roller skating party was held at the Rolladium.

Thursday was the JV game in which the Scot's drew first blood from the Axemen. On Friday students displayed their spirit by dressing in the traditional red and white. That evening, the Clan played the South Eugene Axemen in Autzen stadium. During half-time Kelly Donahue was crowned the 1976 Homecoming Queen by Student Body President, Marty Smith. A 41-15 victory over South helped to highlight the night.

Closing the week's activities was the annual Homecoming Dance on Saturday night.

Seniors Jim Doane and Brian Sherman munch out at the pizza party.

Homecoming Court: Queen Kelly Donahue and Princesses Kathy Eyre, Darlene Baltrusch, Tracy Berry, and Val Stursa.

Look-a-like Seniors Sue Turnbow and Mary Smith find dress up day amusing.

North's winter play considered a riotous success

The drama department's winter production "Arsenic and Old Lace" was considered by many as a riotous success. At the matinee and both evening performances, nearly full houses greeted the cast.

The story centered around two nice little old ladies who do good deeds for their town. They are considered nice in all ways except one, they murder.

The sisters feel that old men are much more full of peace and happiness when they are dead.

Their nephew, Mortimer, unwittingly uncovers his aunts's secret profession and it's this discovery that sets the fuse on a series of incidents which kept the audience screaming with laughter.

Giving what many agreed were outstanding performances, the cast seemed to blend well. The challenge of presenting a humorous play was obviously met as the total production moved smoothly.

Director, Carl Markworth was assisted by student director Dave Wal-drop.

Abby and Martha try to induce Teddy to take their last victim to his "canal locks" in the cellar.

Dr. Einstein marvels at the potential of the old house as a hideout.

A terrified Elaine tries to explain her situation to a suspicious Dr. Einstein and Jonathan.

Mortimer tries vainly to convince his aunts that killing old men and hiding their bodies is wrong.

A little dubious about his identity, Martha and Abby listen to Jonathan's explanation.

An excited Elaine tries to help Mortimer recall their first date.

Coach Ray Chinn shows he would do anything for the swim team.

Lynn Gilday shows the crowd what she has while sister Suzie Thompson asks Santa for more.

Student manager Kathy Johnson did a good job of making South Eugene's student managers into a breakfast as Al Cruz and Bruce Sawyer show the student body.

The basketball team apparently thinks that meditation before a big game is the best way to insure a victory.

Tracy Berry can't believe how improved Linda "LaRue" Holmes looks as a cow.

Many new skits spark assemblies

As the basketball season rolled around, the varsity rally came up with some wild and unpredictable skits for the assemblies. With the help of the J.V. rally, faculty and student managers, the activities raised smiles and a lot of school spirit.

Some of the more remembered assemblies were when student manager Kathy Johnson made a breakfast out of South's managers, or when Santa Claus did not grant Churchill's wish for a victory over North.

The faculty coaches had an important role as they competed for their respective sport in musical chairs with the help of nylons over their faces. But the secret of winning every game finally came out when the team stated worshiping King Siam for a victory.

Other highlights of the assemblies included the Lassies' halftime routines and the presentation of the Honorable Highlanders to end a victorious season.

Traditonal prom a big success

The Eugene Hotel was the site of the Junior-Senior Prom with a theme of "Color My World"

At the event, couples dressed in their finest, arrived anticipating the enjoyable evening ahead. At the door, each received a ballot for the Prom court. Midway through the evening, members of the court were announced by Junior Class President Marita Falkner. Selected were Princess Linda Thielke and Escort Brad Willis, Princess Susie Esquivel with Escort Al Cruz, Princess Kathy Schrenk and Escort Jon Diller, and Queen Darlene Baltrusch with Escort Dan Ainge.

Princess Kathy Schrenk finds Escort Jon Diller an amusing companion.

Senior Sherrill Thomas seems to be having an enjoyable time with her date, as does Alan Bradway.

Phil VanSchoonhoven grooves with the moves at the prom.

Mike Babb seems delighted by Mary Roshau's close company.

Chaperone Jerry Newell seems to be doing what comes naturally - Eating!

Slow, romantic dances added to the atmosphere of the prom.

Junior Bobby Emerson sings and boogies with the band.

Doug Mitchell seems to doubt the ability of the band during one of their songs.

Oklahoma has a double cast

Oklahoma was one of the most successful plays ever presented at North Eugene with four public showings, two matinees and one held-over performance.

Written by Rodgers and Hammerstein the play was a love story with two main characters, Curley and Laurie and a villain named Jud. Among the exciting events in the play was a scene in which the farmers and cowboys did gymnastic stunts and a ballet was performed during one of Laurie's dreams.

With over 100 cast members, Oklahoma was unique with a double cast. Each cast performed for one weekend and a combined cast was selected for the final performance.

Along with the acting there was the performance of the orchestra and the work of the technical crew which did the sound, lights, and set construction. With all this put together, director Carl Markworth was able to watch the play achieve its new found popularity.

Experienced Aunt Eller (Tracy Anderson) gives Curley her opinion of his love towards Laurie.

Curley shows Laurie what it's like in a surrey.

Presiding Chairman Gordon Hocking and Secretary Paula Bachmeier wait for the start of the second ballot.

Karen Ramus helps Derek Swezey cast their state vote.

A dubious Sharon Lindsey awaits the results of the first ballot.

Ward, Behrends win after nomination

Retiring ASB President Marty Smith and a hopeful Tony Ward exchange ideas about campaign strategies.

Students dressed as cowboys, sailors, and gangsters marked the start of the sixth annual North Eugene Nominating Convention held in January.

A number of changes were made this year in order to streamline and shorten the convention. Items eliminated from the agenda were the key note speaker, roll call and the first ballot. In addition, the entire student body was not excused to attend as in the past. Only social studies and classes accompanied by a teacher were allowed to attend.

Weeks before the convention, students were making preparations for the big day. Most of the candidates went campaigning in social studies classes and mapped plans for the event.

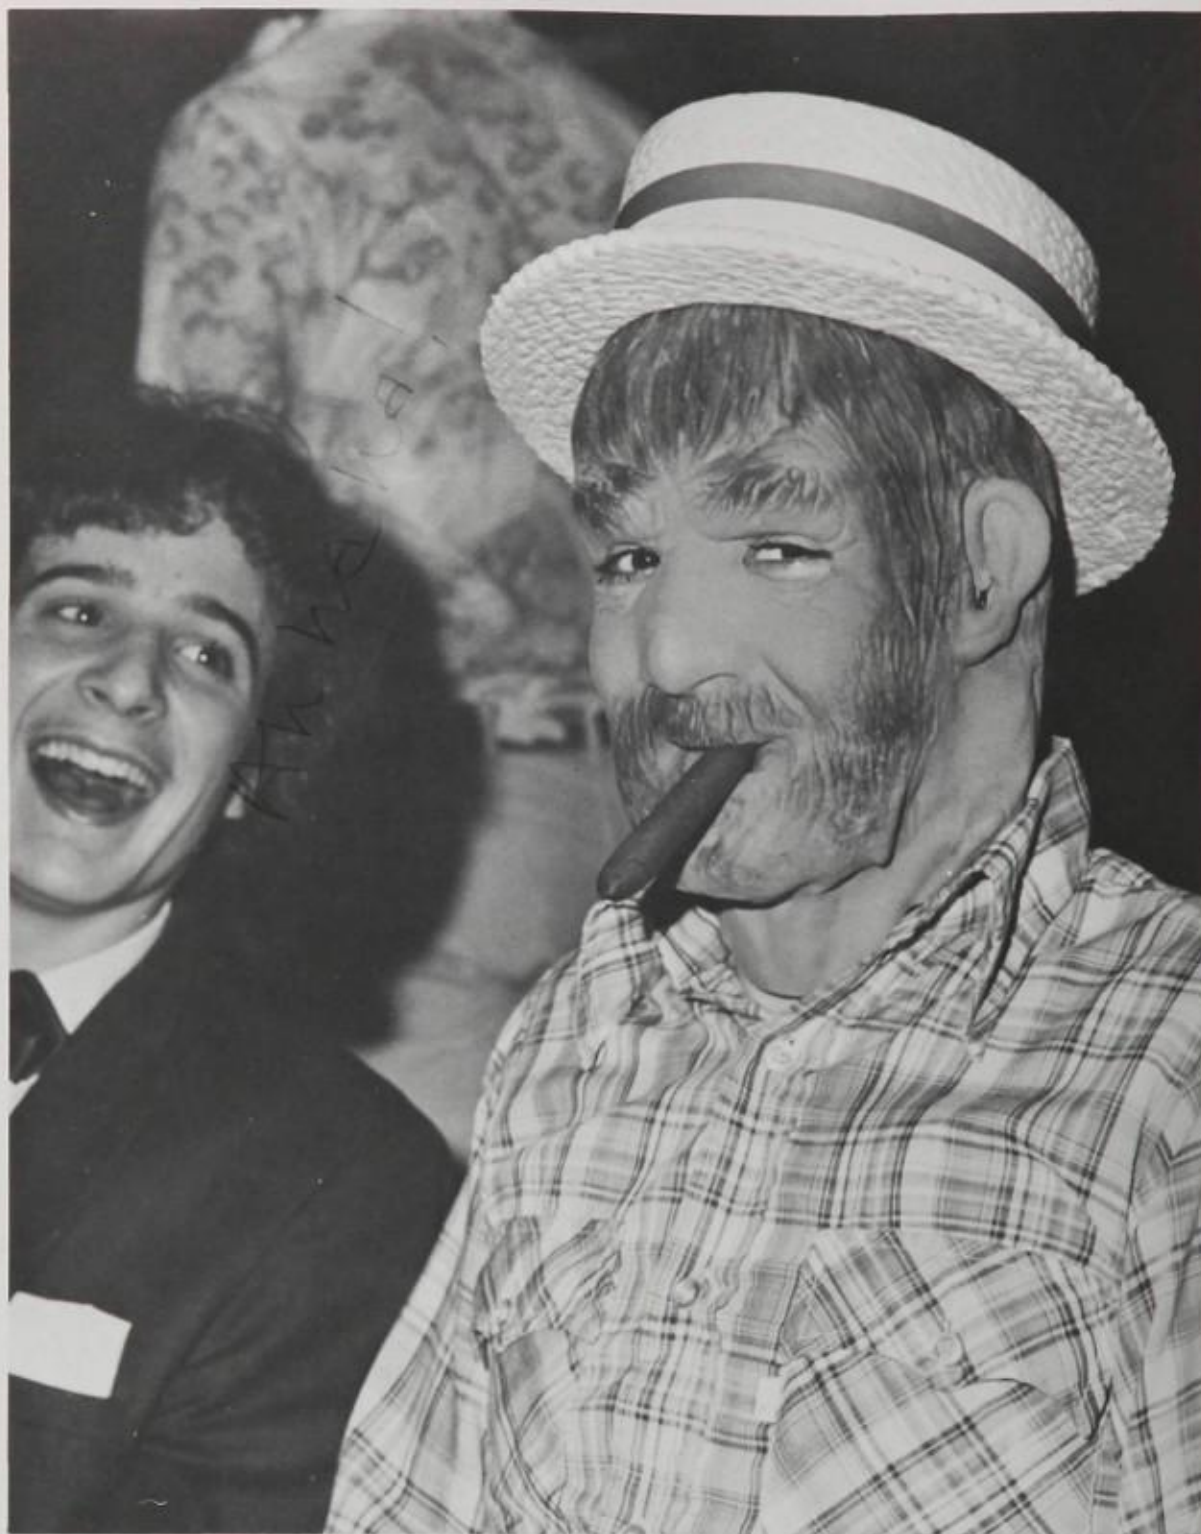

As a result of the convention, several roll call ballots nominated Tony Ward and Bruce Swayer for ASB President. Joe Behrends and Sheila Larson were nominated for Vice President.

While President Marty Smith and Secretary Paula Bachmier look on, the Election Committee waits for results from the convention roll call.

Various groups sponsor dances

Several dances were held throughout the year with moderate success. Among the more successful were the Hello, Homecoming, Christmas, and State Tournament dances.

For a variety of reasons, student organizations sponsored the dances. These included fund raising, celebrations for well done jobs and purchasing goodies for the various athletic teams.

Senior boys make a real effort to welcome the sophomore girls at the Hello Dance.

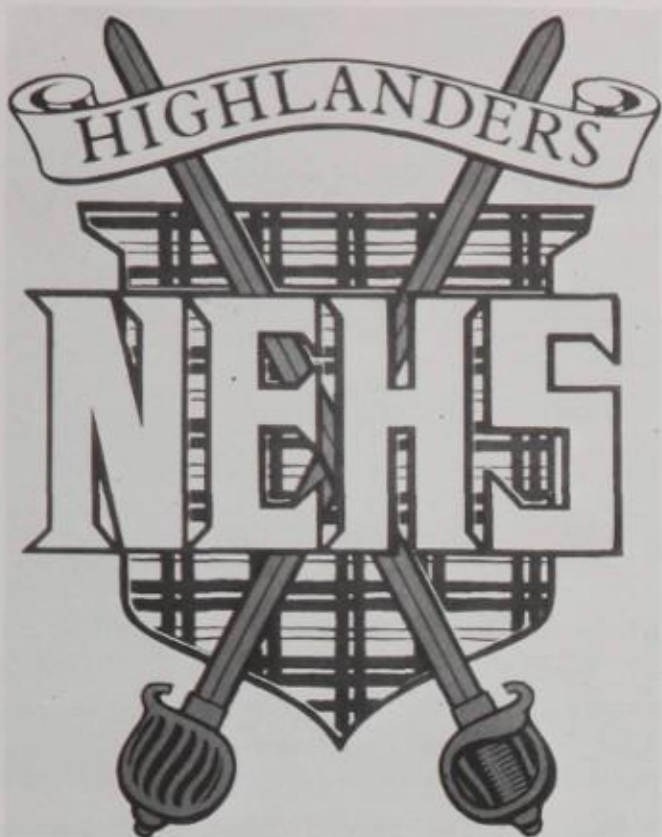

8:33 seems to be a romantic moment for Matt Fahey and Julie Burk.

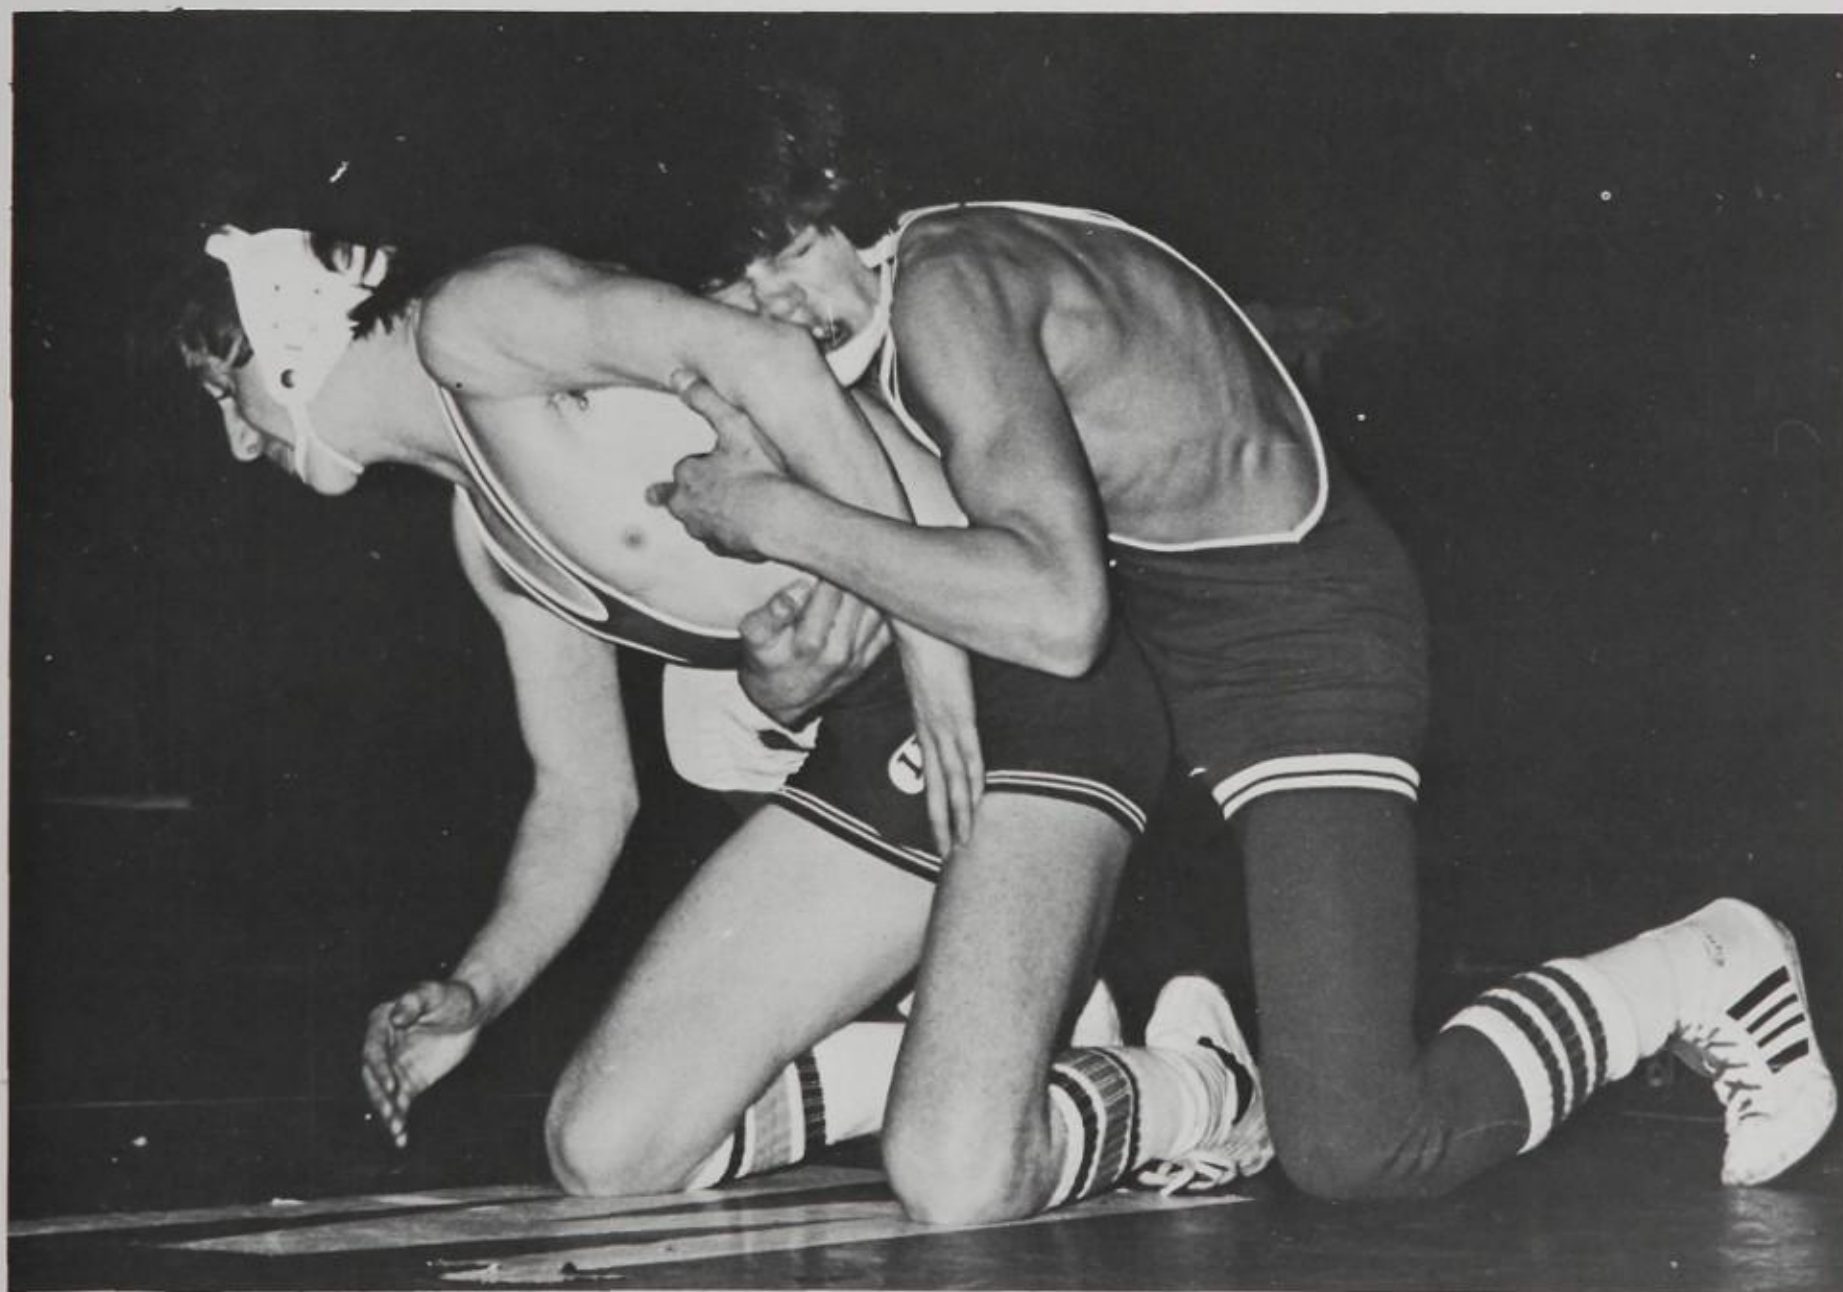

The disco sound seems to have captured the couples at the Christmas dance.

Rookie coach takes North to 9-1 season

Under the guidance of a new head coach, the Highlander football team ended the year with an impressive 9 and 1 record.

Hank Bendix and his staff directed the single platoon team to nine victories with only one loss to the powerful Churchill Lancers.

Opening the season against Marshfield, the Clansmen exhibited their strength by shutting the Pirates out 17 to 0. In their next game North proved their ability to play football by trouncing the Springfield Millers 43 to 0.

In a much closer meet against Wilamette, the Clan remained unbeaten by scoring 23 points to the Wolverines'

14. North next walked over Cottage Grove in a 43 to 9 victory.

The fifth match of the season was against Thurston which was to be a tough game for both teams. Determination and some excellently executed plays by North, however, brought about their fifth straight victory in the 21-0 game.

North's next game was a non-league match up against Hermiston because of a forfeit by the North Bend team. The Clan continued their winning way by stomping Hermiston 55 to 0.

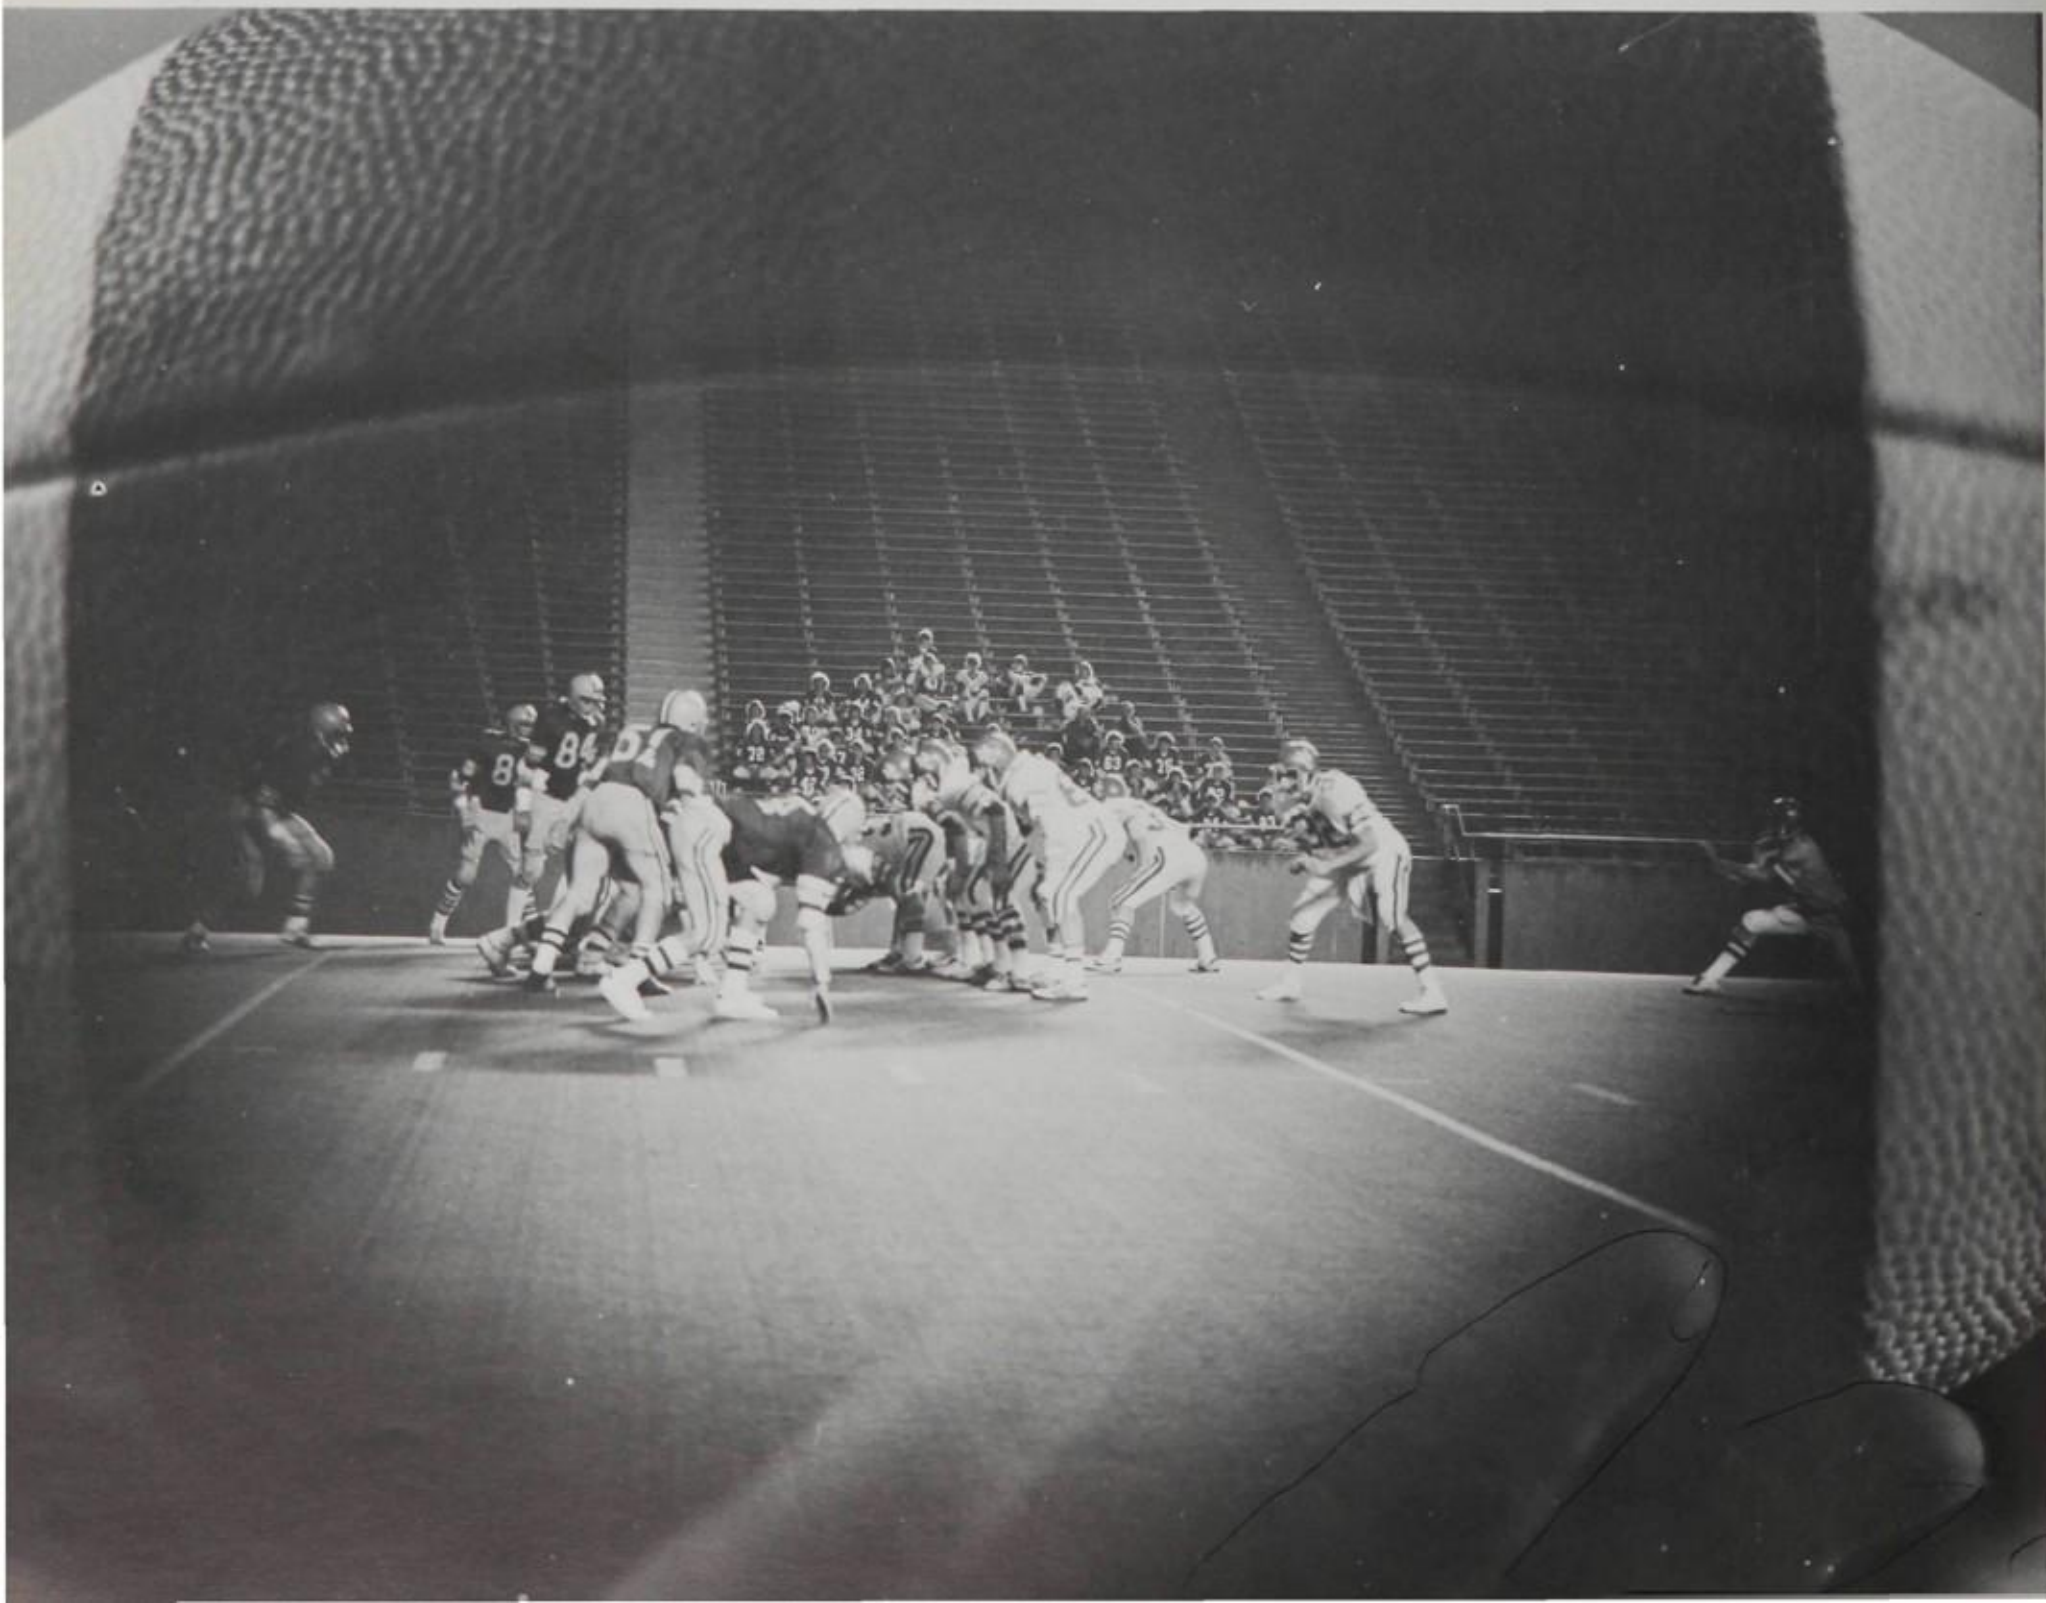

In their only loss of the year, North was beaten by Churchill in a double overtime battle. The Lancers destroyed North's hopes of a state berth by nipping the Clansmen 22 to 14.

Bouncing back from that loss, the Highlanders handed Sheldon and South Eugene defeats of 24 to 15 and 41 to 15, respectively.

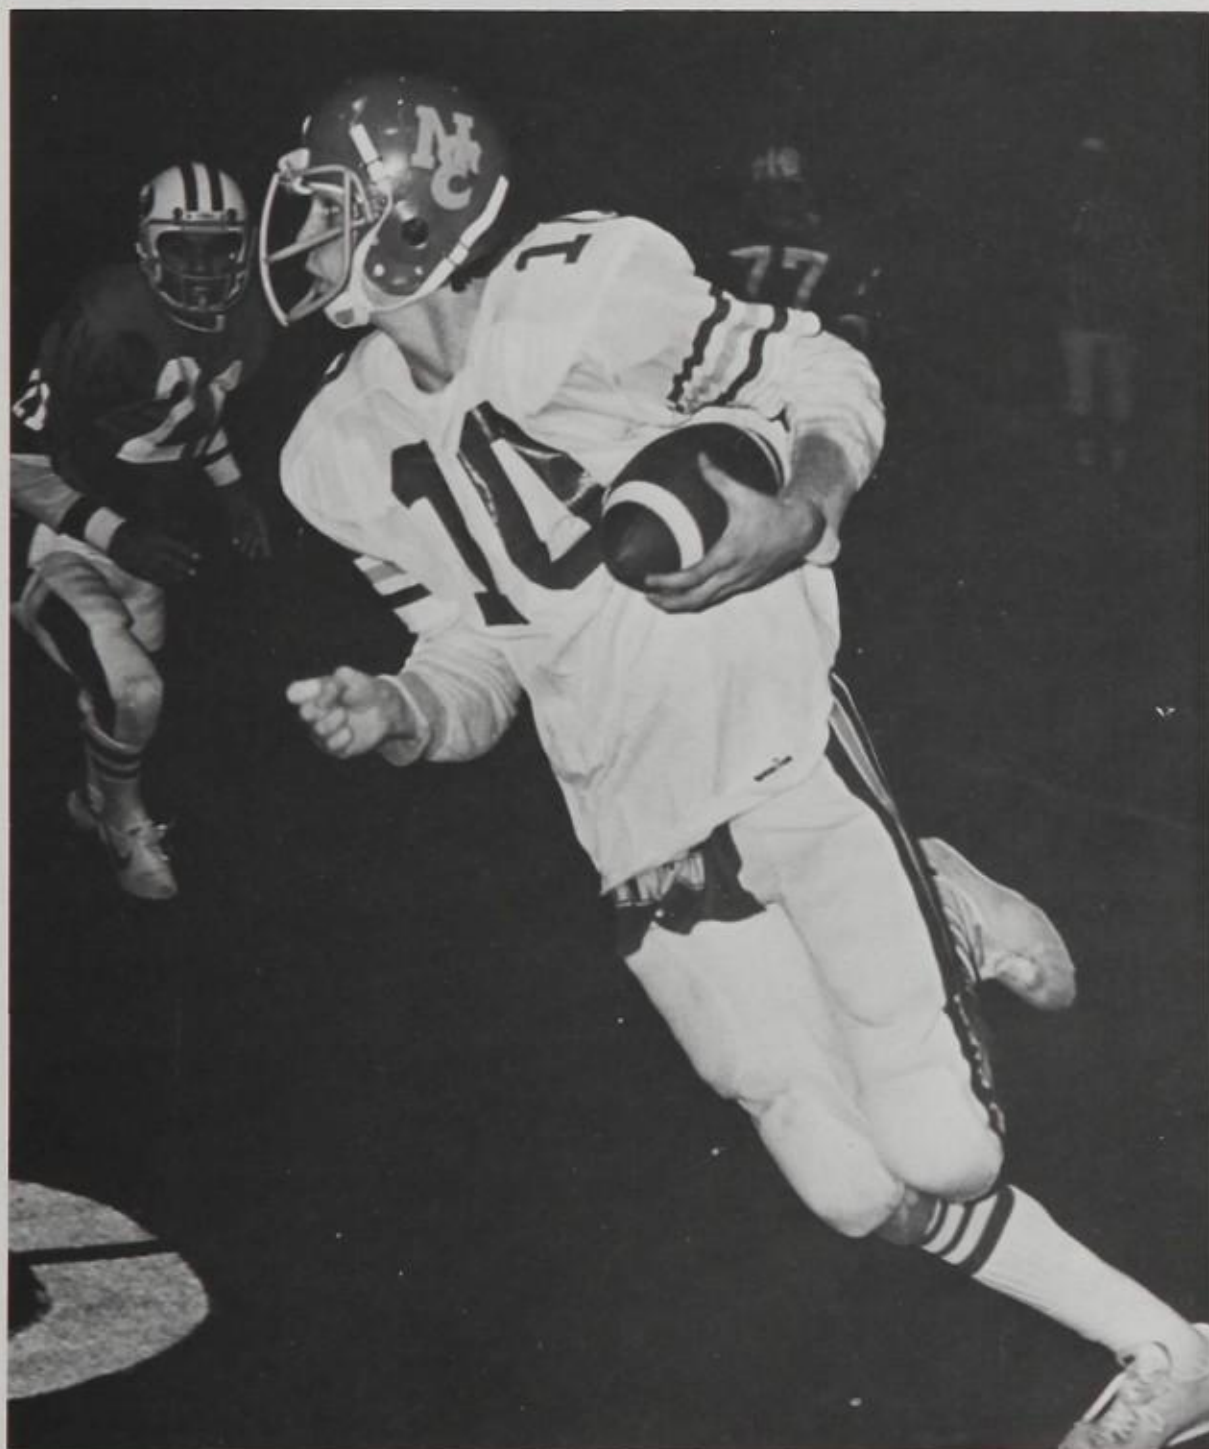

All District selections were: First Team Defense: Jerry Reynold, Dan Ainge, Doug Mitchell and Terry Crafton. First Team Offense: Kim Pfaller, Curt Smith, Doug Mitchell, Eric England and Mike Babb.

The Second Team selections were Scott Mills, Kim Pfaller, Jerry Reynolds, Ron Jarrett, and Carl Dick. Ainge and Reynolds were selected for all state teams on defense.

Scots beat South

Finishing 3-5 in league play, the JV squad got off to a slow start with a 7-0 loss to Marshfield.

The Scots then won a non-league game over Bend High 28-26, before suffering two straight defeats. First to Willamette 45-26, and then to Cottage Grove 7-0.

The Clan regrouped to post a win over Thurston 14-13, and gained a 1-0 victory over North Bend as the Bulldogs forfeited to the Clan.

North was then dealt back to back losses, first to Churchill 28-14 and then to the Sheldon Irish 20-12.

The Highlanders ended the season with a big win over cross town rival South Eugene, 18-12.

Russ Christopherson and Dave Krupicka take an early lead in the district meet.

Harriers take 3rd in District

The Cross Country team finished a strong third place in district, despite having a small turnout, injuries and other problems.

The Varsity led by Russ Christopherson, Dave Hills, Dave Krupicka, Brian Sherman, John Lashway, Mike McCann and Glenn Farrell beat 5 of the 9 teams they ran against. Junior Varsity harriers Eric Luttio, Jim Lippincott, Brian Woodbury, Eric Benton, Bradd Bornemen, Brian Hahn, Chris Luke and Ross Tefft also ran strong.

North opened the season by winning the triangular meet against North Bend and Willamette. The harriers extended their victory streak the following week by defeating both Thurston and Sheldon. Cottage Grove and Churchill managed to hand the Highlanders their first loss of the season in a triangular meet. North then found Marshfield to be tough competition, but squeaked by 27-28.

The last two meets of the season proved disappointing as the Highlanders lost to Springfield and South Eugene.

Girls finish sixth

Inexperience and injuries seemed to be the story of the girls' cross country team this season.

North, led by senior Kim Days, finished their season with a 4-5 record. The girls never ran with a full team in a meet this season. As the year progressed, however, times kept improving.

Brenda Sears entered the season late aiding the girls in their victory at the Thurston-Sheldon triangular.

In non-league action, Days finished 26th and Wanda Wray placed 62nd in a field of 70 at the OTC International Meet held at Lane Community College.

Overall, North took 6th in the District meet with Days finishing a fine 16th with a time of 11:52, Lori Benfer placed 32nd with a 12:58, and Wanda Wray and Maurita Ryan placing 44th and 46th, respectively.

Large turnout helps season

With the best turnout in years, the girls' field hockey team finished an outstanding season with a 3-3-3 record.

Having eight returning players, including three year goalie, Sue Turnbow, the girls proved to be strong defensively as they tied South Eugene 0-0 in the first game of the season. North then went on to defeat Sheldon 1-0, with Joan Furtado scoring the winning goal.

Sports Day was exciting as the Highlanders lost the first game to Sheldon 0-1 but then came back to shutout both Thurston and Roseburg 2-0 and 1-0.

Special awards were presented to Jonelle Smith, Most Improved Player, Mary Smith, Outstanding Defensive Player, and Sue Turnbow, Sportsmanship.

Girls end volleyball with a good 13-1 record

For the second straight year, the North Eugene Spikers fell one match short of taking the district title.

The girls completed the season with an impressive 13-1 record, losing only to the undefeated Marshfield Pirates.

North finished second in league play, which sent them into the double elimination District Tournament as the second seeded team.

In the tourney, North got rolling by handing Thurston an easy loss. They then met the defending District Champs from Churchill and lost by a narrow margin of 13-15, 16-18, after sweeping the first game 15-6.

The netters came back to knock Cottage Grove, Springfield, and the Lancers out of the Tournament.

In the finals against Marshfield, the Highlanders lost 13-15 and in the second game held the Pirates at match point six times before surrendering the game 16-18, along with the game and the Championship.

Both having outstanding tournaments, North's Kristi Lewis and Kathy Johnson were selected to the District All-Star Team.

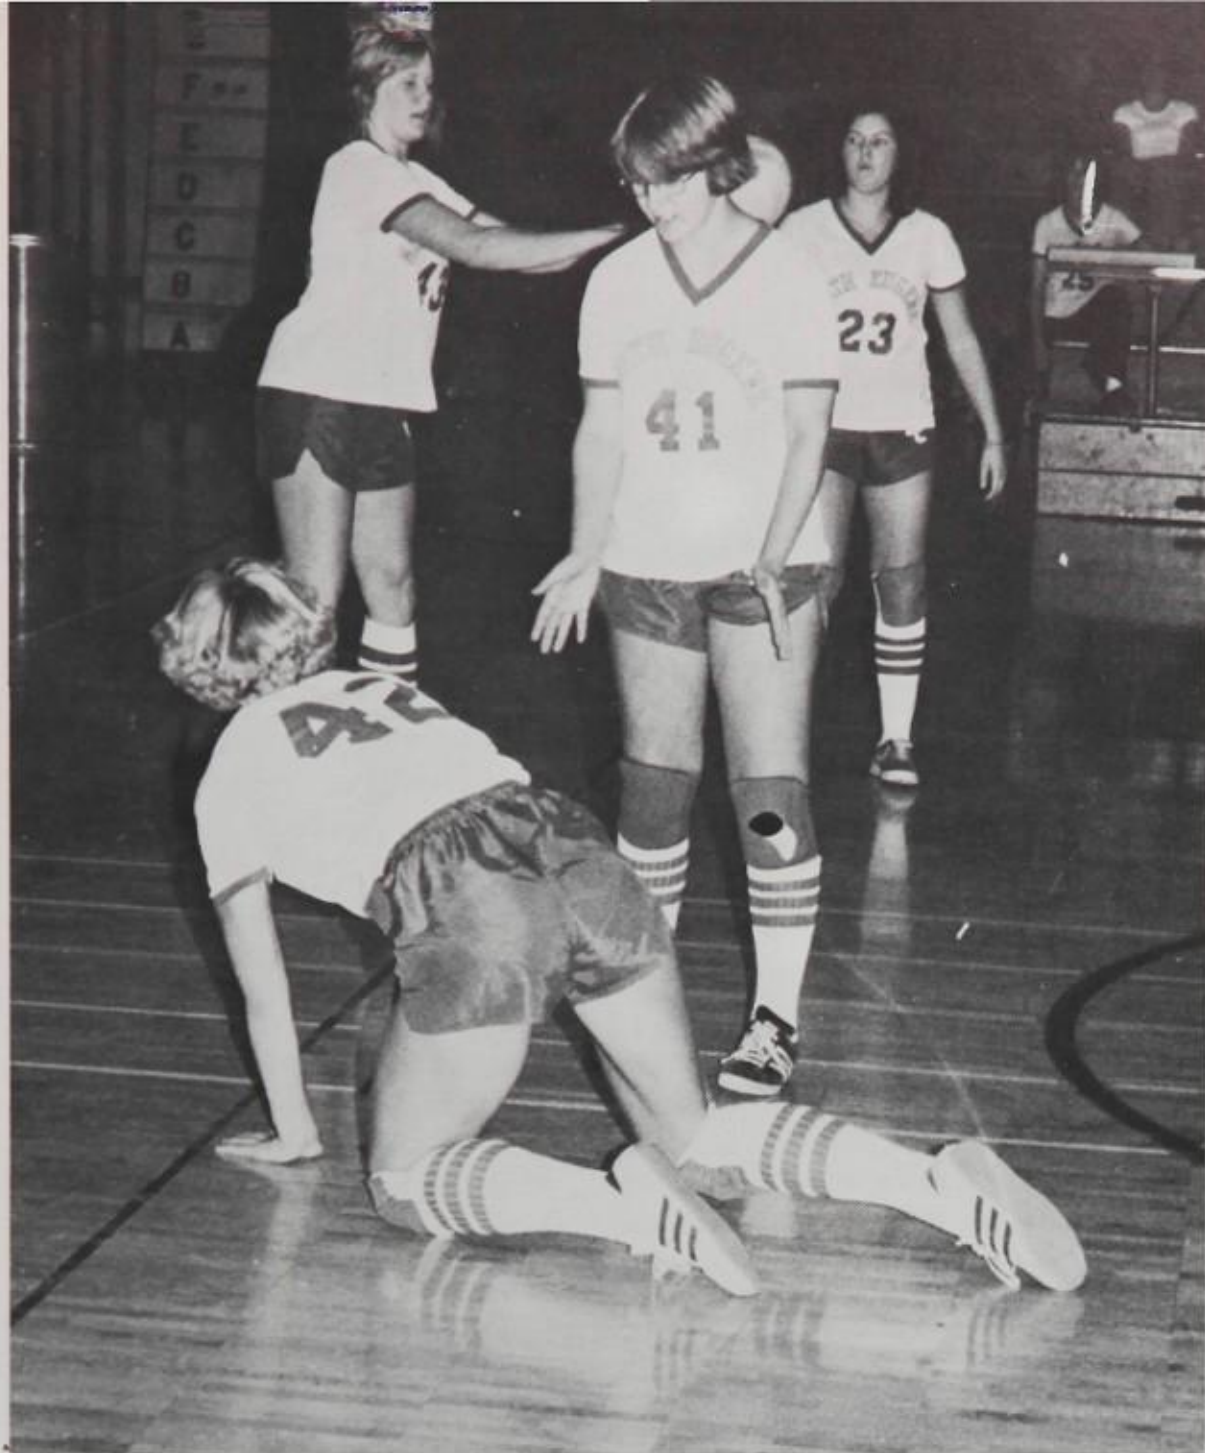

The JV's also had a successful season with Sophomores Tracee Hodney and Molly Hogard leading the team.

Best finish ever for the Clan

"This is the best gymnastics team that North has had in years," said Coach Bob Leach of the Highlander team, who had just completed their best season since North Eugene first opened in 1958.

The Highlanders started their season against arch rival South Eugene and won by .4 points (the first time that the Highlanders have defeated the Axemen since 1962). The Highlanders then went undefeated and ranked third in the state until a loss to Churchill in the last meet of the season.

At District, the team had a shot at going to state, but were edged out by South Eugene and Churchill. "Although the team didn't go to state, the four Highlanders that did performed well," Leach said.

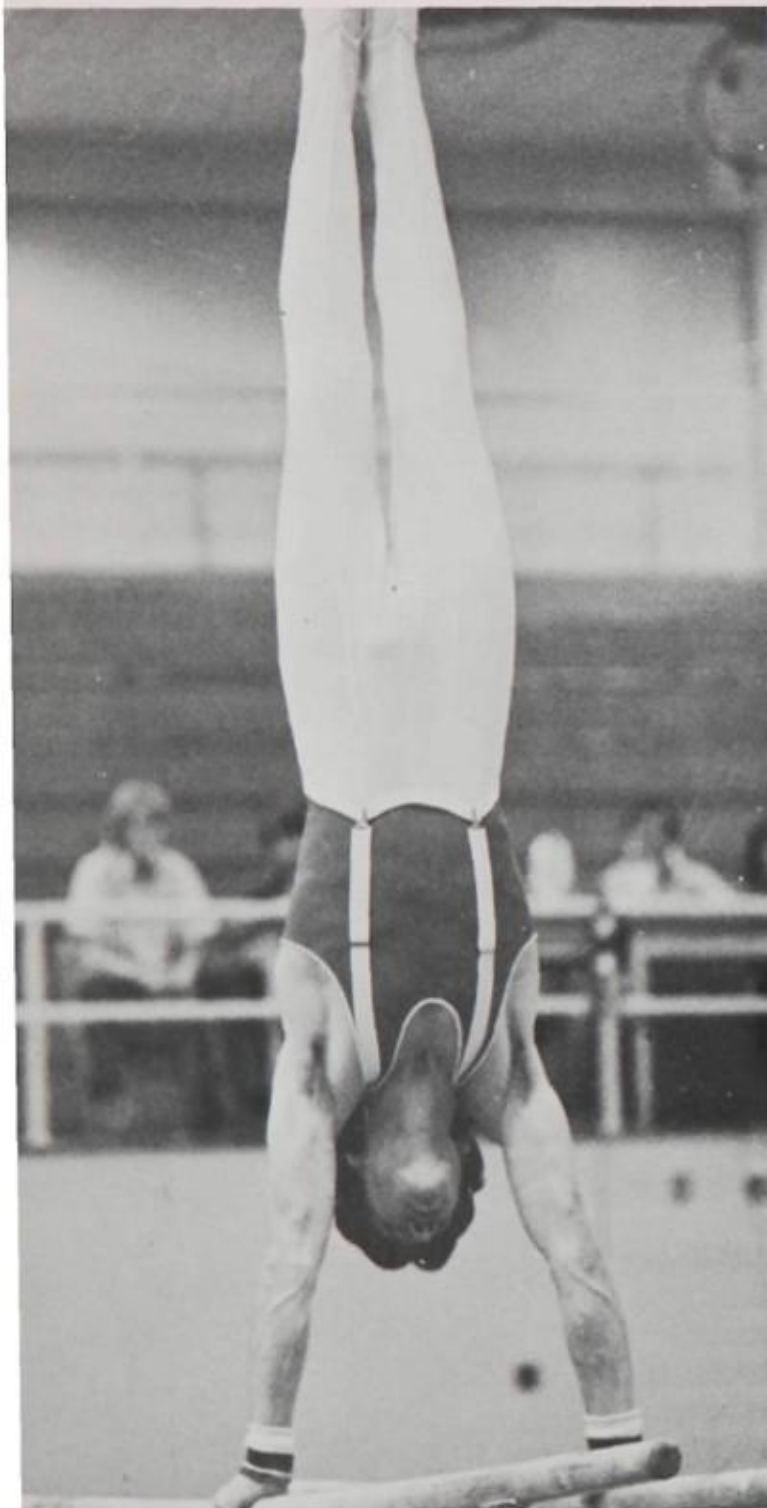

Alan Cordell, a sophomore, placed third in the vaulting competition at district with an 8.75, but went on to place second in state with a showing of 8.80.

Russ Eyre, who had only been competing in the sport for a year, placed fourth in district. At state, he was tied for second in the preliminaries but went on to place fourth in the side horse competition.

The defending state side horse champion, Gordon Hocking, qualified for state in three events: rings, parallel bars, and side horse. He just missed making the finals in the parallel bars but was in first place going into the finals in the side horse competition. He was successful in defending his title as the best side horse performer in the state.

Steve Hopper also had a very good season as a Highlander gymnast. He finished 4th in the district meet in the high bar competition but went on to take state with an 8.80 performance.

Girls have rough season

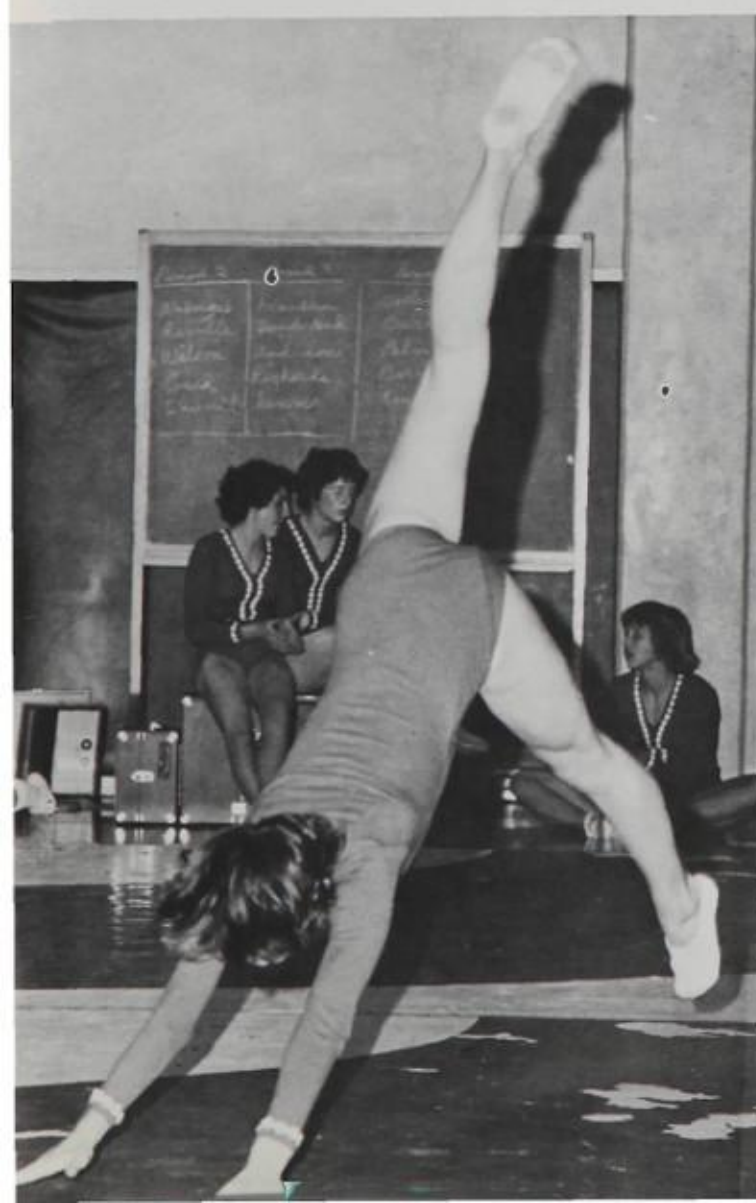

Coming off a state championship and losing valuable members led the girls' gymnastics team to a winless season.

The only team in the district that did not outscore the Highlanders was Willamette, but North did not claim the victory because it was a triangular meet.

No one qualified for state competition at the district meet, as the girls finished a fine fifth.

Michele Evearts was the Most Valuable gymnast, and Chris and Wendy Cornelius were the best at bars and floor routines.

Elizabeth Powell racked up awards for Most Inspirational and Hardest Worker. Sophomore Korrie Maxwell was given the Best Specialist award as she competed in vaulting for the year. Mary Roshau was named the most potential and Katrina Kershaw was the Best All-Around.

Maier leads Clan to 6-1-1

Energetic and enthusiastic players helped make soccer a popular sport at North. In previous years, soccer was a club sport. The Clan compiled a 6-1-1 record for its first official season.

Leading the Clan was Senior Bob Maier who scored consistently throughout the season making 16 goals. Following was Brad Baker with 6.

The Clan dominated almost every game by firing more goal attempts than their opponents. A total of 249 attempts helped the Highlanders score 32 tallies.

Coming from behind was something they experienced against Marist when they were down 2-1 at half only to come back and win 4-2.

The low point of the season was when they lost to South in the playoff.

North controlled almost the entire game, especially the second half. But then with 9 minutes remaining, South scored their winning goal to go ahead 2-1, then a penalty kick iced it for the Axemen.

The season's high point was a tie with Churchill. The Lancers reached the finals in state with the only blemish on their record, other than their loss to Lincoln in the finals, being North's tie.

"Our greatest asset was our desire to excel and win big," said Coach Ray Chinn. "Next year we are going to try even harder and get this team to state - look out other members of the Southern Valley Conference - the Highlanders are coming."

Relays key to success

Dedication was a necessary factor in the swim team's success, as practice was held in the evening instead of the afternoon.

Twenty-three enthusiastic swimmers showed up to practice the first night, but the idea of working out at nights caused many to eventually drop out. Only thirteen swimmers and divers remained for the season.

The city relays proved to be the biggest surprise of the season. Many of the times turned in were the best of the year for some. Having a final season record of 7 wins and 3 defeats was real team effort. The meet with Willamette was an example of the effort exhibited by all team members. It was tied going into the last event at 79-79. Then the team swept a 1st and 2nd in the last relay to win the meet 91-81.

Wins over Willamette and Thurston were particularly pleasing. Both Schools had more swimmers than North, yet the Highlanders "rose" to the occasion and won them both.

The Clan's district showing was not too impressive, although some life time bests were turned in during the preliminaries.

Two of the team members were voted as "prep athlete" of the week. Sophomore Richard Lauritzen won it early in the season and later Senior Rick Nasholm won for his combination swimming and diving abilities.

At the team banquet, Lauritzen was voted most valuable swimmer and Nasholm most improved. Selected co-captains for the 1977-78 season were Lauritzen and Mark Myers.

Taking the district championship and defeating the defending state champions were the highlights of the girl swimmers undefeated season.

During the regular season there were four school records broken. Tammy Bell, Charmaine Lovelace, Kathy South, and Linda Eriksen accounted for these school records.

The victory was sweet at District, as North outscored South 272-238. In eight events, the Highlanders had 13 finalists and qualified five girls for state competition.

Eriksen and Bell took the titles in the 100 yard breaststroke and 100 yard butterfly. Fifteen others placed in the top six.

Coach Lois McKenzie claimed that the depth of the team was what won it for them at district.

At state, Eriksen led the North clan with her sixth place finish in the 100 yard breaststroke.

Eriksen received the Most Valuable, Brenda Sears received Most Inspirational, and Holly Hogard was Most Improved. In the diving category, Most Improved went to Cindy Carnay and Kathy South received Most Valuable.

North held high hopes for next season as no seniors were lost to graduation.

Undefeated Highlanders capture second 5AAA title

Ranked as the number one team in state for the entire season, North's Varsity basketball team proved the prediction to be true by winning every pre-season and league game. As they continued their winning streak, the Clan picked up the district title along the way.

The Highlanders proving to be as good as last year's State Champion team, soundly defeated their first opponent West Albany 91 to 32. Next the Clan took on highly rated Sunset, and once again proved their strength by dropping the Apollos 64-43.

Going into league play the Highlanders were averaging a winning margin of 30 points per game.

In the first league encounter the Clan faced a strong Churchill team on the Lancer's home court. Going through the whole game with an easy lead, the Highlanders found in the fourth quarter that the Lancers were tougher than expected when Churchill made a strong comeback that quarter. But they fell, short, with North winning 71-66, as Greg Niko and Dan Ainge both had 17 points.

North then outplayed Willamette, Marshfield and North Bend by an average win of 55 points per game. The Clan moved through the rest of the first half easily as they captured the first half title.

In the second half, North's strength proved too tough for any team by winning all of the games by at least 13 points, as they won the District 5AAA title. Dan Ainge, Rodger Bates, and Mike O'Neil paced the undefeated Highlanders with winning margins which varied from 5 points to a 104 to 30 win against North Bend. Three Highlanders were chosen for first team All-District: Ainge, Bates, and O'Neil. While Niko made second team and Steve Moulton and Greg Jacobson received honorable mention.

North wins State crown with perfect 26-0 record

Going through the entire season rated number one in the state, the experienced Highlanders overcame the year long pressure to capture its second straight state title.

It was only the second time an Oregon team in modern history had won back-to-back state championships. It was also only the second time a team has gone 26-0, to capture the title. But this was the first time in history for a team to go through a season, wire-to-wire rated number one and also win the state championship.

In their first encounter, North faced a taller, good rebounding Roseburg team. After getting the jitters out in early goings, the Clan pushed to a 62-43 victory. Dan Ainge paced the attack with 18 points, and Mike Babb off the bench hit 11.

In the second game, the Clan blew out the Corvallis Spartans shooting 52% from the field. With a 22-20 margin, the Highlanders scored 13 unanswered points to take a 35-20 intermission lead.

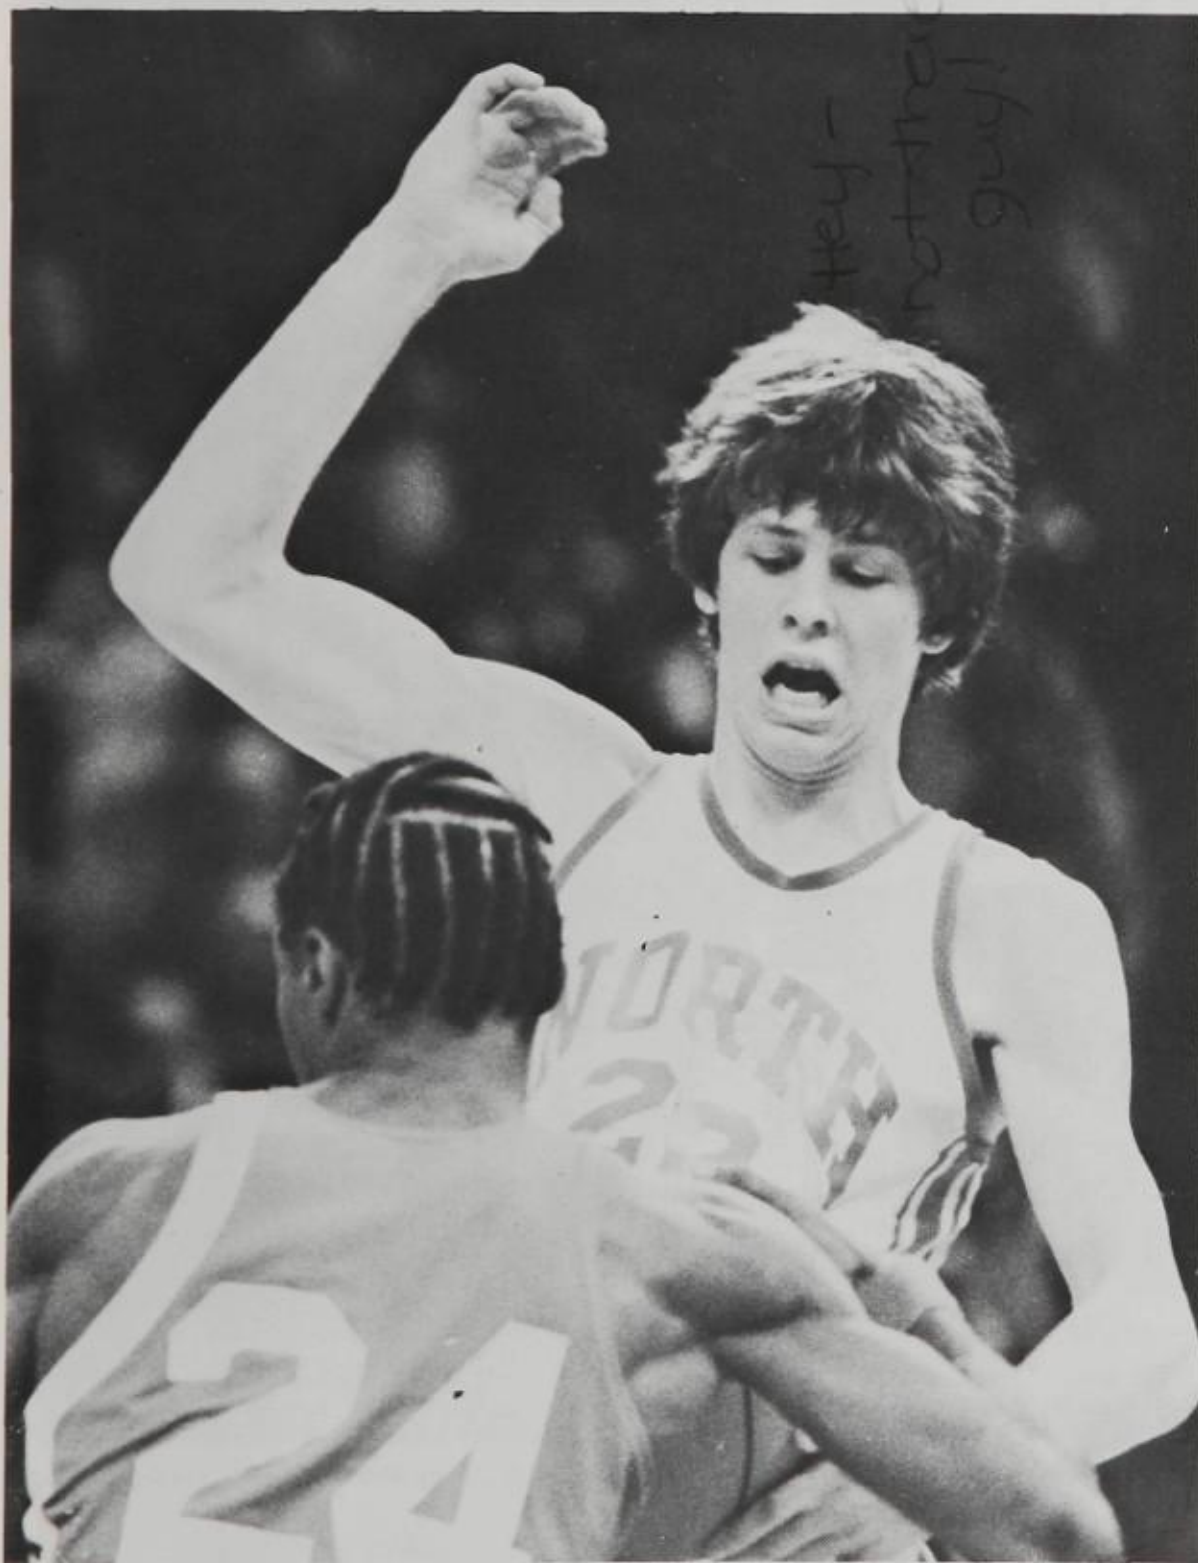

By allowing only four 3rd quarter points and 12 for the entire 2nd half, the Highlanders slaughtered the Spartans 71-32. Ainge led with 25 points and Rodger Bates followed with 14.

In semifinal action, the previous unbeaten Parkrose Broncos fell victim to the Highlanders. Greg Niko and Mike Babb led a second quarter surge with an effective stall offense.

In the Championship game the Clan held a 25-20 half time lead. The Highlanders came out the second half to defend their title trading baskets with Grant until the game finally turned into a free-throw contest with North winning 56-44.

Bates and Ainge received first team all-tournament honors.

Scots end with winning season

Maintaining their winning ways, the Scots concluded the season with a 12-10 record, fifth straight winning year for Coach Terry "Weeb" Viohl.

By winning only 4 of their first eleven games, it looked as though they would have their first losing season. But, the confident Scots came back to salvage eight victories in their last eleven tries.

Juniors Billy Anderson, Drew Anderson and Sophomore Terry Thomas led the balanced scoring team with 10.0, 10.1 and 12.5

averages. But any one of the other players was able to fill in remaining spots. With Coach Viohl giving everyone of his players a start on a number of occasions, it provided the depth they needed.

The Scots brought the season to an end by winning their last three games, including overtimes to Sheldon and rival South Eugene.

"The team showed a lot of guts by coming back after losing seven out of eleven to win eight out of eleven," said Coach Viohl, "It took a lot of pride."

Soph's finish best season ever

Although young and inexperienced, the sophomore basketball team, coached by former North student Rick Havercroft, scrambled to a 20-2 record, a team record.

Losing two of their first seven games, the sophomore Scots recorded 17 straight victories for the league championship.

Balanced scoring was a big factor in the success of the young Clan, which allowed Coach Havercroft to go to his bench quite often in key situations.

There seemed to be a lot of future in this year's team as two players, Kevin Graves and Scott Hufstader, were moved up, midway through the season, assisting the JV's to a winning season.

Hoopstars finish 9-10 in league

Inconsistency was the best way to describe the girls' varsity basketball team as their final league record was a disappointing 9-10.

The roundballers had their chance for a winning season going into the season's finale against North Bend.

It looked like it was going to be easy sailing for North but the Bulldogs refused to give in and kept fighting until they were back in the midst of things. Despite a 51-50 advantage and possession of the ball with 18 seconds remaining, the Highlanders lost 51-52 to North Bend.

Some high points of the season included the defeats of both South Eugene and Springfield.

Young grapplers post winning season

North grapplers produced a 13-10 season record and a 8-3 district showing with a young team composed of both experienced and inexperienced wrestlers.

The Highlanders posted preseason wins over Sprague, Klamath Falls, and Mollala High Schools. The only preseason loss came at the hands of a strong Roseburg team.

During league action, the grapplers were first stopped by Marshfield High. The Pirates defeated the Highlanders 34-14 in a hard fought battle.

They showed a great deal of improvement as they dominated the Willamette Wolverines in posting a 58-5 win.

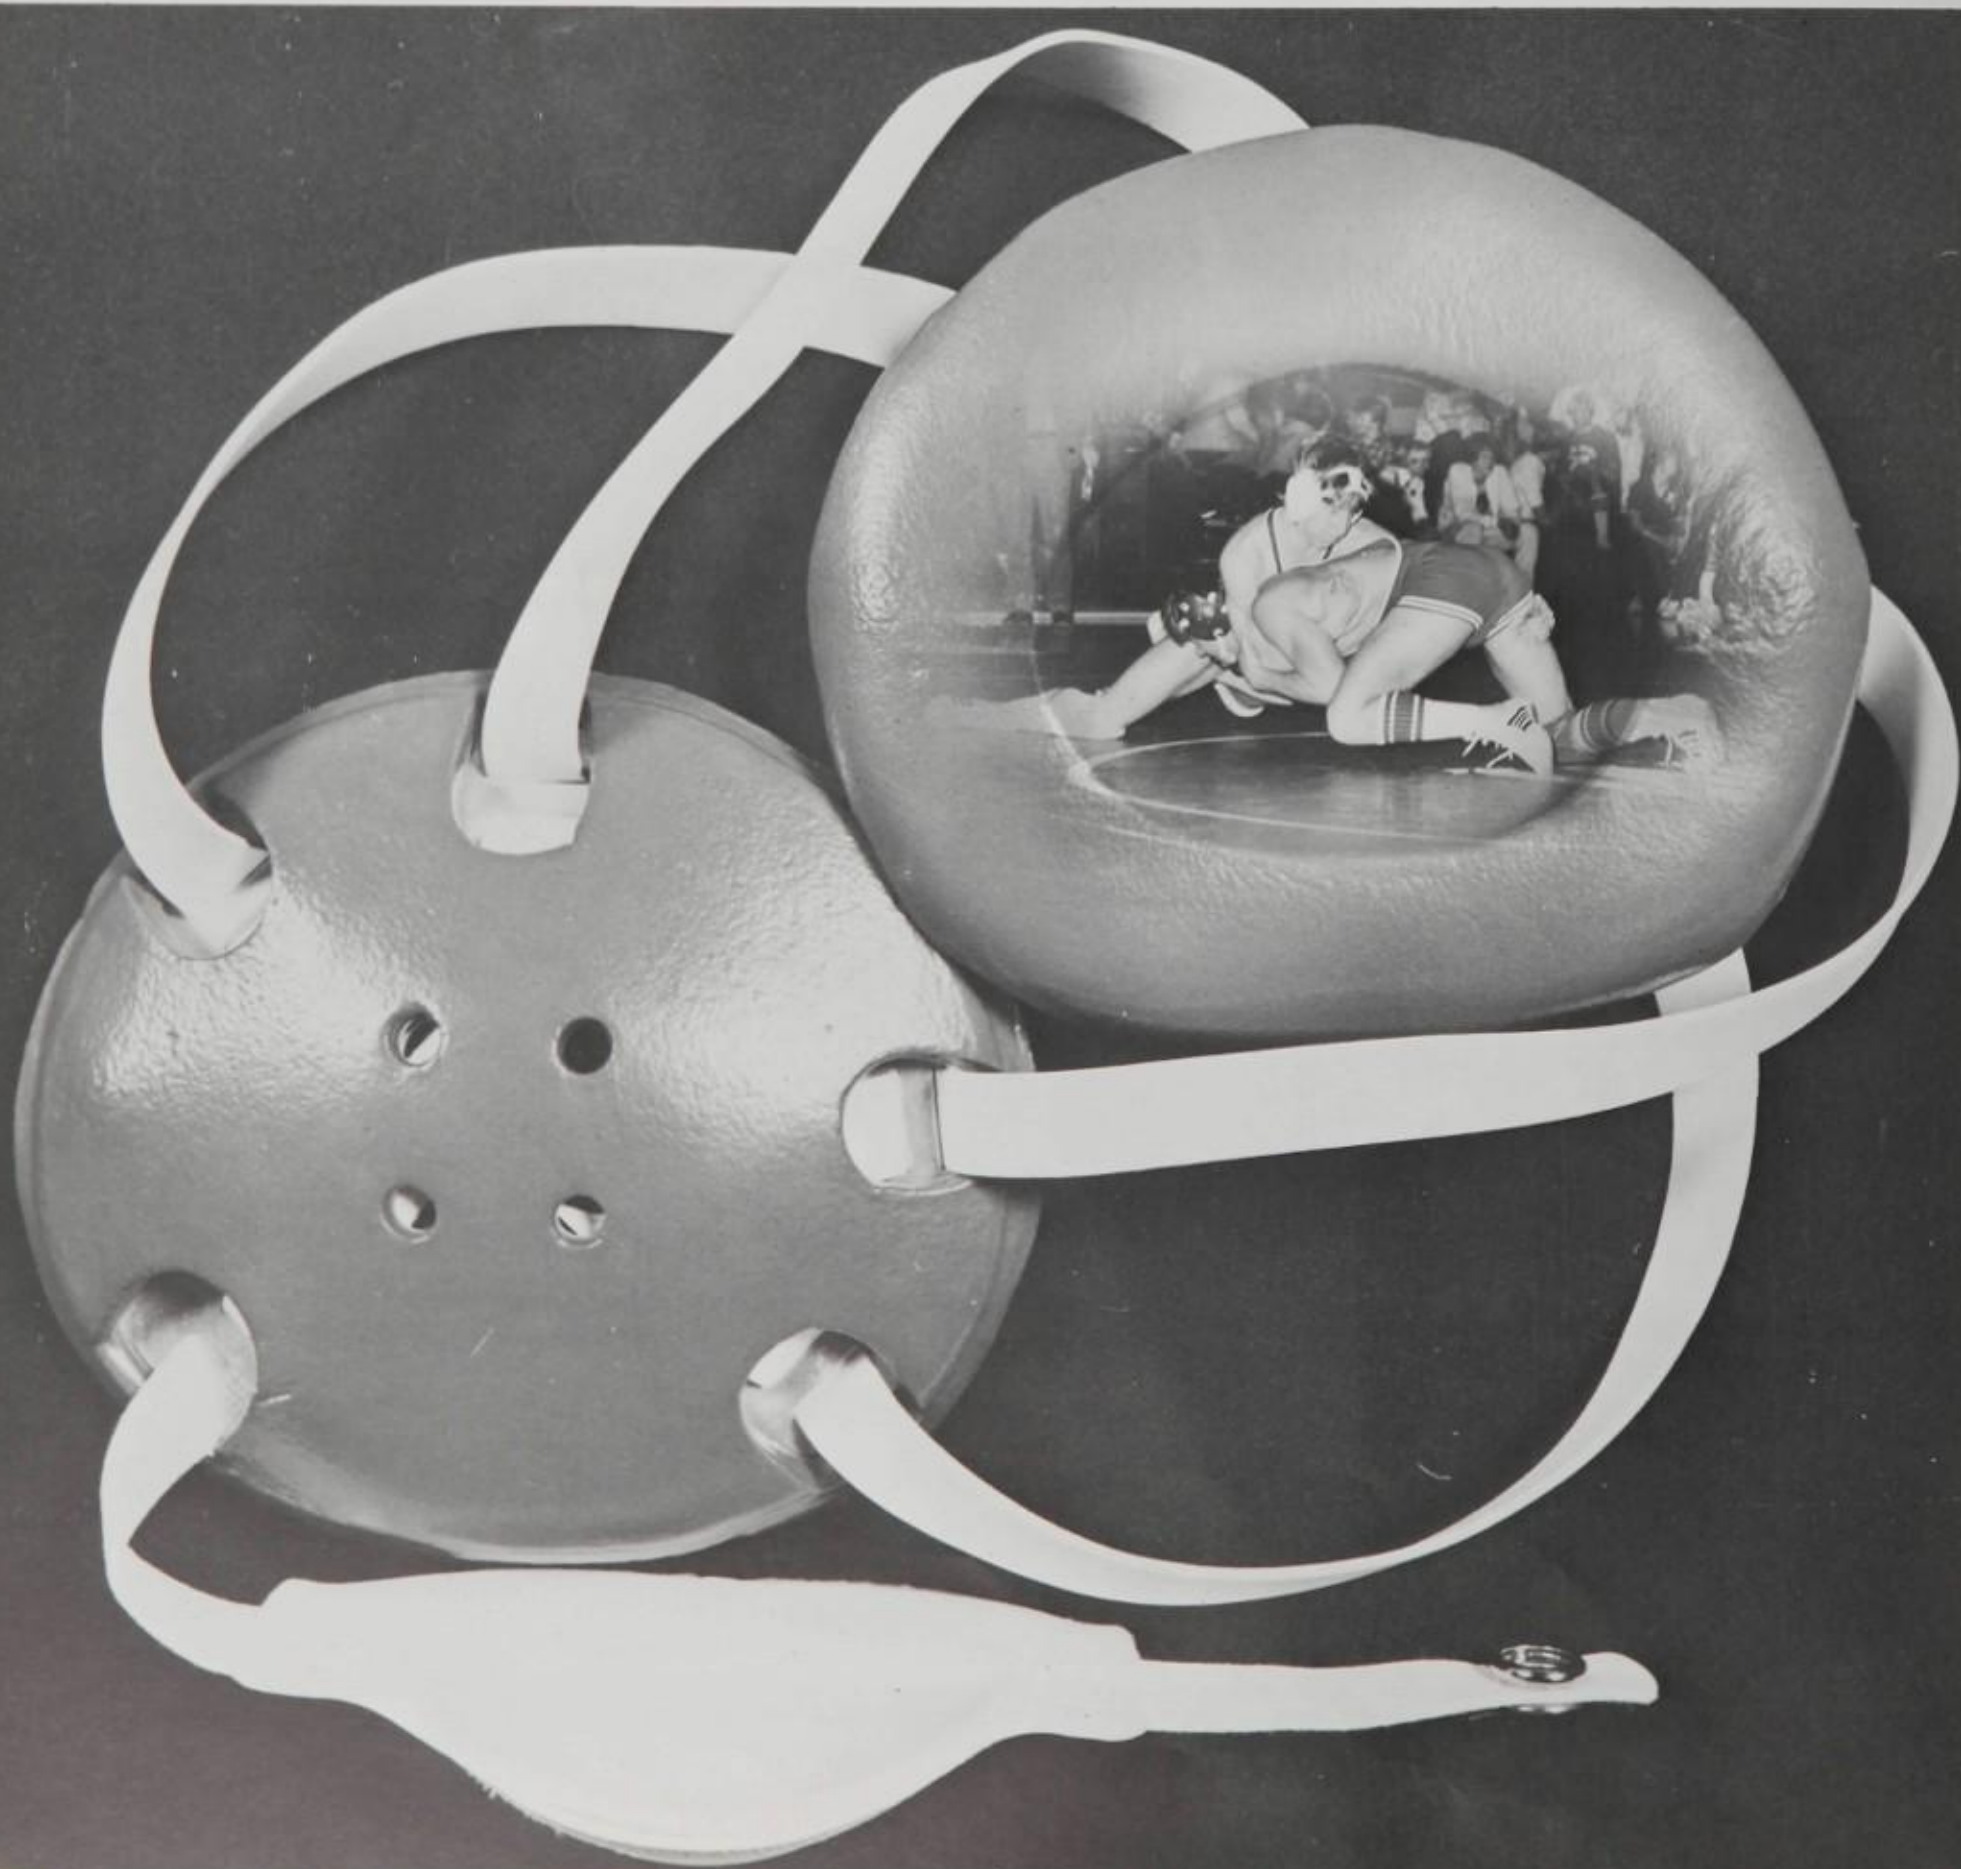

The Clan had its share of problems throughout the season but fought its way to a 3rd place finish at district.

Fourteen wrestlers placed in district. Senior Mitch McCauley led the way to a 3rd place district finish by obtaining 2nd. He was followed by Juniors Eric Larson, Dave Rehberger and Terry Crafton in their respective weight divisions. Senior Donovan Volk grabbed North's only 3rd place finish.

All 2nd place wrestlers represented North at the State Tournament. The Clan champs each lost to stiff 1st round competitors.

At the team banquet, McCauley was voted most outstanding wrestler. Volk was voted most inspirational and the most improved title was shared by Freshman Derrick Jee, who was undefeated in dual meets, and Junior Alden Evearts.

Ski Team finds little snow

In a year that would have to be classed a disaster, the members of the ski team and club saw their favorite season come and go with only one day on the slopes.

As Fall progressed toward the winter months, enthusiastic skiers jogged through the hallways and exercised to bring themselves into peak condition by the time racing season was to begin in January.

Finally snow fell in the mountains and ski resorts opened, but only long enough for the group to make one trip. Hopes for a racing season were soon dashed, however, warm weather returned. With the melting of the snow, the enthusiasm of the skiers also slipped away and all meets were cancelled.

The conditioning efforts of team members were not wasted, however, as many turned their interests toward the spring sports.

Pitching, hitting lead Clan to District Crown

For the second straight year, the Highlanders captured the District Baseball crown with a record of 17-3.

The powerful hitting of the entire squad, which finished with a .357 team batting average, won both the first and second half with 8-1 records in each half. Pitchers Mike Anderson and Tim Kammeyer also played key roles in leading the Clan to the title.

To prove their strength, the Highlanders boasted the league's top four hitters. Dan England led with a .542 average followed by Dan Ainge's .507, Mike Babb's .485, and Curt Smith's .432. The Clan led the league for the second straight year in every team batting category: at bats, hits, average, runs, runs batted in, doubles, triples and homers. England also lead the league in doubles and RBI's. Ainge led the league in hits, runs, triples, was second in doubles and stolen bases while Babb was second in home runs.

Batting, however, wasn't the only strength. Behind the 8-1 pitching of Kammeyer and the 7-1 pitching of Anderson, the Highlanders lost only 3 games, all by one run. Kammeyer led the league with an amazing 0.57 ERA while Anderson led the league with 80 strike outs.

When league play ended, North advanced to the quarter-finals at Medford. The Clan decided to go with Anderson this round, and he gave up just six hits and two unearned runs to capture the victory 10-2.

North's next opponent was Corvallis at Corvallis. This time the Highlanders called on their right arm ace Kammeyer. He pitched 8 innings giving up only two hits and one intentional walk, but 5 Highlander errors and only 2 hits off the Clansman's bats cost them the bid for a State Title, losing 1-0 in extra innings.

Six players received All-District Honors: at shortstop Dan Ainge, in the outfield, Mike Babb and Dan England, pitcher Tim Kammeyer, first baseman Pete Del Zotto and designated hitter Jeff Waldrop. On the All-District second team were pitcher Mike Anderson and third baseman Ron Jarrett. Babb, Ainge, England and Kammeyer were also selected to play in the State-Metro series.

Scots finish with 20-7

Sparked by the pitching talents of Junior Dave Mael and Jim Mitchell, the JV baseball team completed the season with a 20 and 7 win-loss record.

Pre-season games ended with the Scots earning 10 wins and 3 losses. The team's 21 to 0 victory over the Sheldon Irish highlighted the pre-season.

The young Scots began the league play by beating a strong South Eugene team 11 to 4. Other victories in the first half were over Cottage Grove (7-0), Sheldon (7-3), Willamette (10-0) and Thurston (9-4). The only losses the JV team suffered were to Churchill and Springfield.

The Scots finished the first half with a 5 and 2 record.

Second half scores also tallied up 5 wins and 2 losses. North players managed to make up the Springfield and Churchill losses of the first half by beating them 12 to 6 and 18 to 1, respectively. The JV team lost, however, to Cottage Grove and Willamette in the final half of league play. Other triumphs of this half were over South Eugene (9-6), Sheldon (6-3), and Thurston (15-7).

Coached by alumni Steve Henkaline and Tim Johnson the Scots completed a successful year with a promising future.

Racketmen have good 11-5 season

With only four returning lettermen, North's racketmen compiled a 14-5 record, one of the best in the last 14 years.

One of the toughest matches they faced was against the Springfield Millers. "We could have won the first match with them but inexperience told on our part," said Coach Ray Chinn. The Highlanders lost the match 6-1 with the sole win coming from Clark's singles victory.

Surprise victories were noted against the strong North Bend and Sheldon teams.

Although the season's play was satisfying, it ended on a sour note-namely, the district tournament. In the day's competition, only four matches were won. In singles, Mike Galick won his preliminary match but lost in the first round. Top singles man was Bryan Clark who won his first and second round matches, but lost in the third round 3-6, 3-6, to the No. 3 seed. The Moulton-Sawyer doubles team also won their first match in the 1st round, losing a close 4-6, 6-4, 4-6, match in the 2nd round. All other players had lost in their first matches.

At the annual banquet, Moulton was voted team Captain for the 1978 season and the Most Improved Award went to Galick. The Fink Award went to Dan Royal.

Sage; Bernhardt lead way to third

With six returning veterans, the girls' tennis team posted a 9-1-6 record, which placed them third in district.

Doubles were especially strong as Senior Jackie Sage paired up with Junior Julie Bernhardt, their record was strong enough to get them seeded third for district playoffs. Co-captains, Star Solar and Kay McDonald held down the number two spot and had a successful season, while third doubles, Sue Hunter and Sue Turnbow, went through the season undefeated.

The highlight of the season was District, when Sage-Bernhardt overcame a Churchill team to qualify for state competition. Meanwhile, Solar-McDonald missed a state berth when defeated by the number one seed, North Bend. In singles, Linda Erickson also missed a state berth when defeated by a Churchill girl, the number one seed.

Linksters win a third place

Golf team began its season with high hopes of capturing the league title. Five experienced players returned including seniors Don Hadley, Randy Siltanen and juniors Billy Anderson, Dennis Anderson and Ross Tefft.

As play began, the Highlanders failed to achieve the consistency needed to win. The team placed sixth at the Gold Coast Classic in Coos Bay, although Hadley took medalist honors.

Later in the season, the Clan shot a season low of 297 taking first in a four-way tournament. Things were looking good as they traveled to Tokatee for a five-way meet, and again finished first with Hadley leading the way.

After placing third in District, the Clan sent Hadley and Billy Anderson to State. Neither player had good showings in that meet.

Girl Golfers go to State

Spring 1977 marked the end of a very successful season for North Eugene's first girls' golf team.

Under the leadership of coach John Reed, the team flourished.

Led by Freshman medalist Sharon Hadley, the Highlanders consistently won match after match losing only to South Salem in season play.

As district rolled around, the girls were ready with sharpened skills and experience behind them. Taking all other teams by complete surprise, North clearly captured the 5AAA Championship title.

Moving on to state, with Hadley, Sue Allison, Kristi Murphey and Lori Lashway competing, the Highlanders placed a respectable tenth.

North captures District crown

After the second year of competition in the district, North took command in the softball world with a perfect 10-0 record.

Coach Bob Leach, claimed that the team did extremely well considering they spent minimal time practicing.

The Highlanders were not known as an explosive team with the bats, yet they had three players hitting above .500. Lori Benfer led the attack with a .629, Patty Wilson followed at .538, and Rhonda Revelle turned in a .520.

Few errors were committed at the defensive end of the club. Revelle led the crew on the mound. She pitched 58 out of the 59 innings in the season, and only allowed an average of 1.7 hits per game, tossed two no-hitters and had 113 strikeouts within the 58 innings.

The Junior Varsity team only played one game because of the lack of participants from other teams in the district. They dropped that to Sheldon in five innings.

One of Oregon's best pitchers, Rhonda Revelle blazes off a rise ball.

Thinclads give strong showing in field events

With a strong returning nucleus from last year, the Highlanders proved their talent and strength during the season.

The Clan had a strong team in the field events, with long and triple jumper Greg Jaros, State high jumper John Galloway and pole vaulter Russ Eyre. Jaros also placed consistently in the javelin.

Matched with the strong field team was a group of talented runners. Returning distance runners Russ Christopherson and Mike McCann, 440 runner Drew House, Hurdler Dave Hills and a strong mile relay team rounded out the group of runners.

After dropping two meets to Springfield and Cottage Grove, the Highlanders turned it on against Willamette winning 110 to 32, and then winning their next two meets over Marshfield and a strong Churchill squad.

In the non-counting North-Sheldon invitational, the Clan lost Jaros due to a knee injury.

With a small girls' team, the Clan also did well for their size. Led by Kathy Johnson and Kim Days the District meet proved to be the best showing for them.

Johnson winning the District Crown in the shot put, long jump and 110 high hurdles and Days ran the 880 in 2:20.7 to grab second and Jayne Bernhardt finished third in the high jump to qualify for state.

In the District meet, Dave Hills carried most of the weight for North as he qualified for State in 120 high hurdles, 330 intermediate hurdles and as anchorman of the mile relay team. John Galloway leaped 6'6" to win the high jump and the mile relay team also qualified by running the distance in 3:28.3. Five others placed in the District meet to give North fifth place.

Galloway and Hills were responsible for a respectable showing at State. Galloway jumped 6'5" to place third and Hills scored points in the 120 high hurdles with a 6th place. Hills also did well in the 330 intermediates, running a 38.9 to place third in the meet.

Kathy Johnson was the only girl scorer for the Highlanders as she ran the 110's in 14.80 to place 2nd and a put of 41-9 $\frac{3}{4}$ to place her 4th in the shot.

Council finds year challenging

With the 1977 year in mind, the Executive Council tried to make more improvements and a better social-academic life for the student body.

Under the supervision of advisor Steve Handran, President Marty Smith guided the Executive Council through another hectic year.

The most successful achievement for the Council was the formation of a Student Affairs Committee. This group provided greater student participation in governing the affairs of the school.

Not only was this year's Council faced with the debt from the remodeling of the student lounge, but they also faced the problem of keeping the lounge clean. Various methods were attempted to keep the lounge clean. All efforts were unsuccessful, however, and the furniture was removed at the end of the third quarter. It was returned for the final term, but students still refused to keep the lounge area clean. By midway through the quarter, the council voted to remove and sell the furniture.

Committees keep busy schedule

Keeping everything organized and operating effectively were the responsibilities of the committee.

The Student Affairs Committee was responsible for representing student opinions at staff meetings. They helped decide on an effective grading system and basically how the curriculum would run.

The Election Committee manned all booths for student voting, and kept busy tallying the votes cast.

The Honorable Highlander Committee chose an outstanding boy and girl of the month for their achievements and held regular meetings with the help of advisor Virginia Melary.

Distributing money was the Budget Committee's main function. They held many meetings to decide how the allotted money would be spent. Due to the Student lounge, there was a shortage of money.

Rally Squads broaden support

While their main concern was the support of the Football and Basketball teams, this year's Rally Squads placed more emphasis on other sports as well.

When the Football season started, the girls had popsicles, cookies, drinks, and banana splits waiting for the team after daily double practices. Throughout the season they also did special things for the team before every game. They included such things as decorating the locker room and postering each player's house. These activities carried on throughout the Basketball season as well. The girls also tried to give recognition to other sports through pep assemblies.

The Rally performed the traditional Highland Fling during the first South game and during a half-time at the State Basketball Tournament in Portland. The team's success brought them several invitations from the community. They were asked to perform at the Oregon Republican convention in the Eugene Hotel, the Easter Seals Telethon and were interviewed for Eugene Magazine and KASH News Radio.

The four JV rally positions were filled by five girls this year. Rinda Watson quit at the end of the Football season while Shelley Volk joined the group to finish out the Basketball season.

To finance their activities they held several fund-raising activities and received donations from businesses in the Community.

As the buzzer sounds, the Rally races onto the court to congratulate the team on their second straight State title.

Lassies continue secret pals

Secret pals were a great hit with the basketball players as the day before each game different treats were awaiting them in their lockers following practice. While serving as the pals, Lassies carried on the tradition started a year before.

Hard practice and dedication were rewarded when they won 5th place in state competition. Halftime performances at football and basketball games were the main function of the Lassies as fans enjoyed the uniqueness in dance routines.

A highlight of the year was their half time show during the state championship game. Not only did the crowd in attendance see them, but thousands also watched a portion of the routine on television.

A dance in August helped pay for football uniforms. Other fund-raising projects were selling megaphones; car washes; and bottle drives. The Lassies also served at the AFS and football banquets and performed at the Oregon-USC game at Mac Court.

Publications record year

With an abundance of ambition, the 1977 Tartan staff set out to produce the most exciting and best yearbook ever.

Under the direction of 'Big' Jer Newell and Editor Rodger Bates, the staff worked to keep up on all the latest happenings to give the yearbook that extra touch of class and accuracy.

Staff members strived to make their sections the best possible. With deadlines to meet and many hectic days to meet them, they still managed to have fun. A Tartan-Caledonian Christmas party was held at the editors' house where they exchanged gifts and ate cold pizza.

Capturing all the events and highlights of the year was the group's main accomplishment. The greatest pleasure of all was seeing the completed Tartan at the signing party in early fall.

Photographer Rick Cameron gets a "cake facial" from some Tartan staff members.

Editor John Snicale helps Kathy Marteney paste-up another issue of the Caledonian.

Cheryl Fifer seems amazed at Sue Allison's ability to erase the chalkboard.

Paper reports school events

Keeping up on all the latest school events was the main goal of the Caledonian staff. Editor John Snicale kept everyone on their toes proving to be a busy editor.

Meeting deadlines and a few last minute rushes seemed to be a familiar feeling among the staff. It also required cooperation and team-work from all.

The frequent publication of the Caledonian kept the school up to date on all the important news. They also published a special edition of the paper in honor of the team going to state. The paper maintained its high quality for another year.

AFS host students

North was doubly blessed this year with two foreign exchange students visiting through the American Field Service exchange program. Two of North's own students Chris Trent and George Boehmer each traveled to new locations and enjoyed the cultures.

Sununtar Setboonsarng came to North from Thailand and found life very different. Carine Alboort traveled from Belgium to become a Highlander for the year. Both girls were able to take an active part in school affairs and addressed the students at the Awards Assembly.

Along with the foreign exchange, AFS also sponsored a domestic exchange program with Winters, California. Students from Winters High visited North for a week in February, and twenty Highlanders made a return visit to California in March.

AFS held several fund raising projects and hosted the annual banquet in the Spring. Exchange students from throughout the state spoke to the guests.

Cindy Lauderdale and Sylvia Brown seem anxious to reach their destination at Winters, California.

Rodeo Club new to North

New to North, the Rodeo Club met monthly at members' houses to practice various skills.

Being an independent club, there was no competition between schools, but hopes were high that things would change in the future. Bull riding, roping and herding were the skills most commonly practiced by the up and coming cowpokes.

Senior Tom Jensen did, however, compete in two rodeos during the year.

Brent Brotherton isn't use to such a wild ride.

Barry Wyatt enjoys the more quiet ride of the carousel.

Language Clubs enjoy a year of fun and learning

To start the year, Spanish, French, and German club members held their annual picnic at Skinners Butte Park. A variety of games and activities made it an exciting and eventful day.

The three groups also got together occasionally to share ideas and have a good time. On Halloween they had a pumpkin carving contest, went to the haunted house and had a party at the school. Bowling and skating were other activities of the trio.

They also went Christmas caroling in the downtown Eugene area and in May the annual ice cream making contest was held at Skinners Butte Park.

The Spanish Club sponsored the Foreign Exchange Student program in which two Costa Rican students spent a period of time in the U.S. The club also sold valograms, holly misletoe and booster buttons to raise money for their fund. A weekend trip to Sun River highlighted the year and was a memorable time for all.

The French Club, composed of 13 students, busied themselves throughout the year with fund raising activities and social events. Selling candy was their main money making project. They also sampled French desserts at a student's house and took a trip to Salem to see a French play "LaDouble Inconstance."

The German Club held several bake sales and worked in a booth at the school carnival where they sold German food. They also viewed a German play at the U of O, "Die Physiker." For a special treat they ended the year by eating German dinner at the Alpine Village.

Debaters attend 20 tournaments

The Forensics team had an outstanding year taking first in many of their debates. They had 20 tournaments in which North students competed against other high school debate teams.

District winners that went to state in various events were Sue Allison, Marty Smith, Rob Funkhouser, Barbara Homer, Gigi Furtado, Marita Falkner, and Kathy Cowles.

The highlight of the year was when two senior debate teams, Sue Allison - Rob Funkhouser and Barbara Homer - Marty Smith, went to Berkley, California to compete against other west coast schools.

The debate team also took fifth at the University of Oregon competition which is the biggest event in the state.

They also held a couple of car washes to raise money to participate in debate workshops.

Another organization, Quill and Scroll, was a group only open to those journalism students who exhibited outstanding efforts on school publications.

The annual initiation of the group was held in the spring where students received pins and munched out on pizza. Fourteen members were initiated into the Charles A. Sprague Chapter for the year.

Radio — Chess active groups

Keeping things running smoothly allowed KRVM's "Highlander Sounds" to have another outstanding year.

The group produced a daily program from 11:30 - 1:05 p.m. in which they presented music, news, and a lot of "Disc Jockey" chatter. Every Wednesday the program featured "Highlander Forem".

They also broadcasted five home football games and four home basketball games. Senior Terry Roos won an award for his outstanding play by play announcing.

In addition, the Chess Team composed of five senior boys had a rather disappointing year winning only one of their many matches.

Steve Graville was an outstanding player, however, winning many of his personal matches.

Spring Pop Concert sets record

The year ended successfully for the bands with a sell-out crowd viewing A Mickey Mouse Affair, this year's pops concert. According to Band director Ron Logue, it was the first band concert to sell out in the North area. To publicize the concert, band members dressed in Mickey Mouse costumes and played in the halls during lunch hours.

Other concerts included the annual Fall and Christmas performances which were also successful. Logue felt part of this was due to Student Director Frank Clark's outstanding leadership. At the Awards Assembly Frank was given the John Philip Sousa award, along with a $100 scholarship, for his leadership. Another outstanding band student was Michelle Cole, who won the State Flute Solo Contest for an unprecedented third year in a row.

Along with concerts and the pep band's performing at Football and Basketball games, the bands performed at the Valley River Inn, Rodeway Inn and Shadow Hills Country Club to raise money. The money earned was used to purchase sound equipment, which included a $2,000 pair of speakers and an amplifier.

Singers have exciting year

The A Cappella Choir under the direction of Bob Norman performed all through the year for the student body as well as for the public. Performances during the fall and spring concerts, Baccalaureate, graduation and singing the national anthem during a basketball game played at MacArthur Court highlighted their year.

North's Pipers took a trip to Reno to attend a Jazz Festival and do some singing of their own. They performed at all the concerts put on at North as well as around the city. They were very versatile as they sang jazz, rock and even some classical.

Chorale new North group

A new singing group to North this year was the Chorale. Starting with second semester, this all girl choir participated in the spring concert.

The Chorale also met with other high school all-girl choirs for a festival. Hopefully the Chorale would be a permanent part of North's music program.

Directed by Gloria Peters, the Orchestra, although small in numbers, practiced hard and proved to be very successful. They staged outstanding performances at the fall and spring concerts. They also performed during the spring play Oklahoma.

Academics

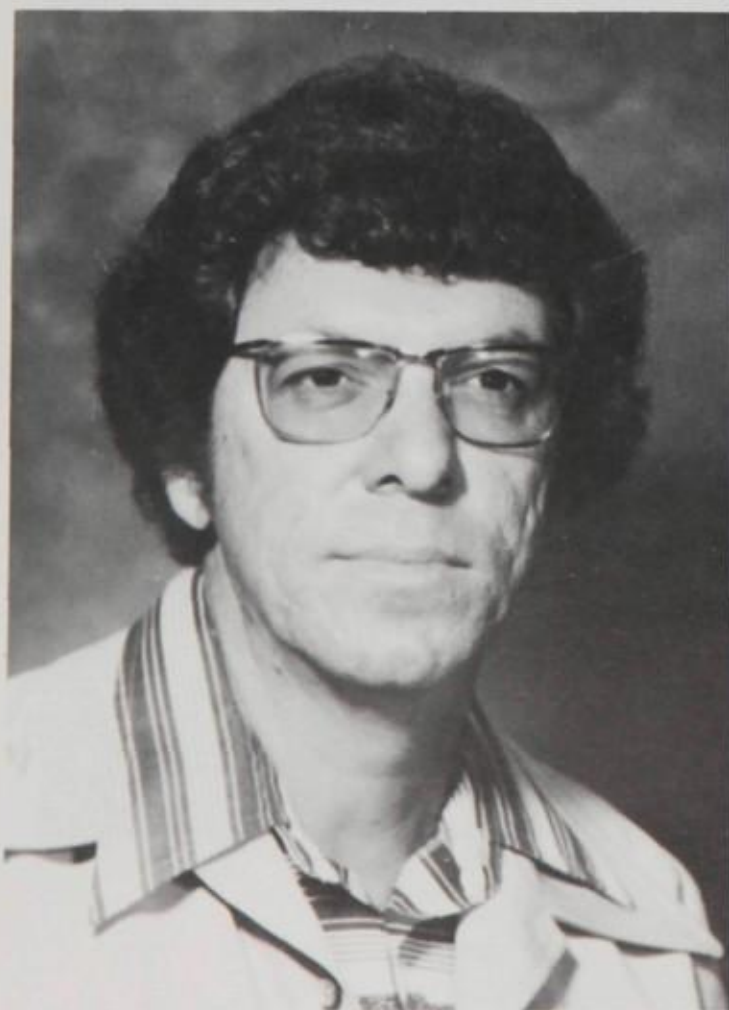

'We exist to serve'

An effective way of getting something accomplished is to establish some goals that are realistic within a time frame that is reasonable.

In the last two years some significant goals have been established and significant achievement made. North students experienced a greater involvement in the total school program (Student Affairs Committee) than ever before. There was a planned and concerted effort being pursued by both students and staff to raise the total awareness of each other and how interrelationships affect the school community. The physical environment in which people work every day was being renovated and special areas created to assist the total educational program.

All of the items mentioned resulted from the efforts of many who believed that the reason we exist is for the people we serve - our students.

Shift in structure

A major shift in structure of North Eugene's counseling program took place with the introduction of the Guide Program. Under this new program counseling was individualized. Each faculty member was assigned a small group of 11 to 18 guide students, for which each was specifically responsible.

Even North Eugene's class schedule was altered to facilitate the Guide Program. Guide time, from 2:35 to 3:00 each day, was created to give students and Guide Teachers a time to meet and discuss any questions or problems that arose.

Because the routine questions and problems were handled by Guide Teachers, the regular counselors were free to concentrate on more complex and pressing matters. They provided scholarship and college admissions information to Seniors, as well as helping the student body as a whole.

Films, plays add to English classes

Recognizing the importance of mastering valuable communication skills, the English Department allowed students exposure to a variety of learning experiences.

Several outstanding films such as "Psycho" and "On the Waterfront," were brought to North during the year. The films, sponsored by the Film Study classes, were available for viewing as supplementary material for all classes.

Humanities and Drama students attended the Eugene Opera production of "Carmen" and a performance by Sheldon High School of Shakespeare's "Hamlet." AP English students had the opportunity to travel to Ashland to see Shakespeare's plays performed on stage.

Leisuretime, Life stages discussed

Two new courses were incorporated into the Social Studies curriculum this year. They were "Leisure, the Individual and the Community", and the "Human Experience".

Leisure, the Individual and the 'Community, taught by Mike Manley, was an exploration of the relatively abundant amount of leisure time available in our society, its possible uses, and the community resources available to make leisure time productive for an individual. The course involved a lot of independent work, so each student set his own course goals.

Ron Lancaster was the teacher organizer of Human Experience. Drawing on the expertise of several guest speakers from the community, the stages of human life were presented. The course was divided into four specific areas: being an adolescent, families, aging, and death and dying.

The Advanced Placement American History classes prepared students for the Advanced Placement Exam given in May. Students who did well on the exam could receive up to eight college credit hours.

Members of the Political Science classes identified proposed legislation of interest to them, learning about the legislative process as they tried to follow "their Bill" through the legislature. They also attempted to influence the future of the legislation by writing legislators and special interest groups.

Math classes meet needs of students

The Mathematics Department was proud of its ability to have an appropriate course for nearly every student. The course offerings were among the most complete in Oregon, ranging from remedial arithmetic to college level Calculus.

Next year should bring a nine year old dream to reality: the remodeling will include provisions for a central math laboratory-work area surrounded by six math classrooms. Computer terminals, calculators, and learning packages for special skills would be available for use by students throughout the school day.

Chemistry options help many students

During the 1976-77 school year, the Science Department added two new courses to its curriculum.

Organic Chemistry was offered in response to a suggestion by North's graduates. This course was offered fall term and provided the students with a useful foundation which would help them in future high school and college science courses.

During spring term, North had its first one-semester course in chemistry. Biochemistry was a chemistry class without prerequisites and gave the students another mid-year science option. It covered basic biochemical concepts.

Personal Finance classes are required

A few years ago business classes at North consisted primarily of students contemplating an actual career in business. The program has now expanded to include not only office training, but personal business training as well.

This new aspect of business education took the form of required Personal Finance classes. Using an interdisciplinary approach, teachers from Business, Math, Social Studies, and Science departments combined to present material covering such areas as money management, taxes, and consumer protection.

Although more emphasis was given to the personal aspect of business operations, office situation courses were still popular. The Typing, Accounting, Business Law, and Office Simulation courses gave students the opportunity to develop solid office skills and gain a basic knowledge of business procedures. Once these skills were mastered, many students participated in Business Work Experience Programs, receiving valuable on-the-job experience.

Customs are studied along with language

Christmas caroling at the Atrium Building was just one of the many "extras" enjoyed by Foreign Language students. The evening concluded with the breaking of Pinatas which were made by the Spanish students. Guest speakers often visited classes, explaining the clothing, customs, holidays and lifestyles of their respective native countries. Occasional sampling of foreign foods offered a welcome break from vocabulary words, conjugation of verbs, and other grammar concepts. Filmstrips and slides also gave students a practical view of the language studied and its application.

North was fortunate to have four foreign exchange students this year. They were Carine Alboort from Belgium, Vera Acosta and Sara Flores from Costa Rica, and Herbert Esmahan from El Salvador.

PE Department uses quarter scheduling

Physical Education Department began a new system of scheduling courses. Under the new program, students were allowed to sign up for quarter instead of semester classes. This change was made to give students a wider variety of course choices.

Some of the activities offered by the PE Department were badminton, basketball, dance and tennis. All classes were CoEd except for contact sports such as football and wrestling.

In addition to keeping fit through PE classes, students were given the opportunity to learn about other aspects of physical health. The Health Education classes, taught by Ray Chinn and Bud Robertson, divided their studies into six topic areas. These sections were: Consumer and Environment Health, Mental Health, Safety and First Aid, Human Reproduction, Venereal Diseases, and a Health Survey.

Service staff a vital part

Nutritious and appetizing meals were constantly served by the Cooks to both student and faculty members. However, a change in procedure was required as the school year progressed. In an effort to improve the appearance of the Cafeteria, a 10¢ deposit on lunch trays was instituted.

The Custodians not only assisted in keeping the lunch area clean, but were responsible for the maintenance of the entire school building and grounds.

As the Custodians worked to make North Eugene liveable, the Secretaries and Clerk-Typists were busy with the necessary paperwork involved in running a high school.

Increased interest in Art

Many students found direction for their creative urges in Art Classes taught by Jim Lockard and Doris Lang.

The Art Department added a full pottery program to their course selections. Three beginning and two advanced pottery classes were offered with the acquisition of a new kiln and four pottery wheels.

Student interest in Art increased so much this past year that the Art Department would be hiring another teacher next fall.

Students get musical treats during the year

The Music Department spent a great deal of time in preparation for two big events; the Spring Musical, "Oklahoma," and the "Mickey Mouse Concert," both of which were considered big successes.

The Highland Pipers were able to attend a jazz concert in Reno, Nevada in place of their canceled tour to Hawaii.

Because of student interest in choir, a new singing group was developed for girls only by director Bob Norman.

The A Cappella Choir did a marvelous job in everything they did topping off at Baccalaureate and Graduation exercises.

Although the Orchestra was small in number, they performed with enthusiasm at Winter and Spring concerts.

The Bands were lively as usual and kept the assemblies and games full of spirit.

Concerts by each of the various groups in the department were well accepted by the students and North Eugene Community.

Classes teach independence

Independence and self-sufficiency was the goal of both young women and men enrolled in Home Economics classes.

A variety of classes offered by the Home Economics Department helped students to prepare to live on their own. One course, entitled Independent Know How, provided factual information and practical experience needed for living by oneself or with another person.

Other courses explored such areas as the birth and development of a child, wardrobe construction, care and selection, nutrition, food preparation, and principles of Home Nursing.

New skills prove useful

Students were involved in a variety of interesting programs in the Industrial Education Department. Under the direction of Merrill Kellogg, students made utility type trailers, weight benches and two-wheel hand trucks. Having completed the construction of a home, Bob Miles' students were ready for employment in the building industry. Marv Flowerdew's auto mechanics classes, conducted in the new shop facilities, were also very popular. One drafting student in the Industrial Education Department even had the opportunity to work for the City of Eugene.

Library helps many

The library served as a resource center for North Eugene's students. With the help of head Librarian Ellen Ching and Assistant Librarian Virginia Melary, students were able to find almost anything needed for class assignments or just for fun reading. The librarians tried to keep the library in a relaxed atmosphere so that students could work without interruption.

Science teacher Jon Doornink finds it relaxing to browse through the library's magazines.

Ellen Ching always keeps her files straight.

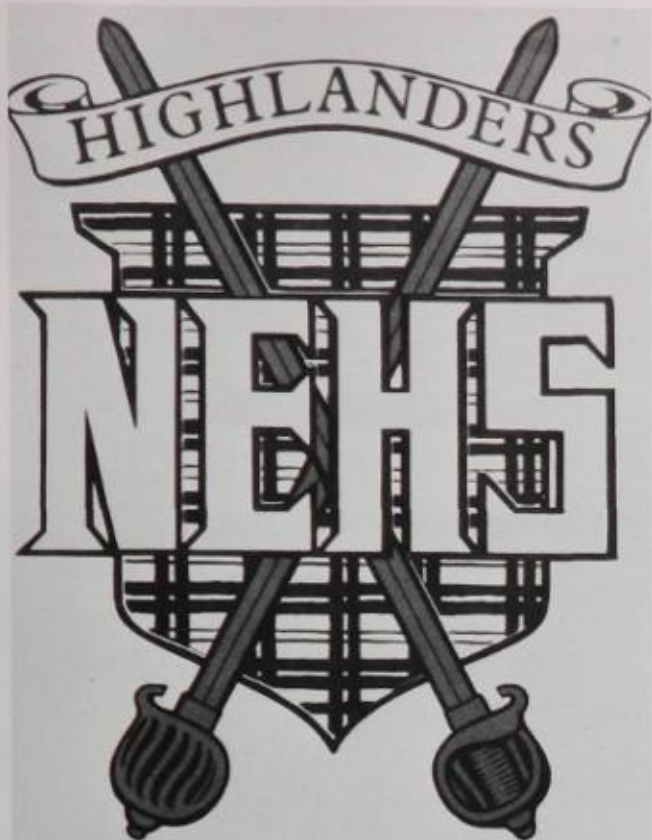

Suzie Hunter seems bewildered by the definitions in Webster's Dictionary.

Classes

Sophomore class efforts fall short of goals

Students from various junior high schools came together at Fall registration and united to form the class of 1979.

That first week the traditional "Hello Assembly" was held on Friday and 465 sophomore baby hats were distributed to the new-comers.

Adding to the excitement of the event, a few of the "lucky" sophomores were called down to participate in the annual filbert roll.

In October the sophomore class elected President Fifi Souers, Vice President Nancy Schmidt, Secretary Barbara Adkin, and Treasurer Anne Taylor.

The main goal of the newly selected governing body was to promote school spirit and organize the sell of class rings.

Lack of funds and class support lead to the cancelation of the annual class dance. Hopes remained high however, that their Junior and Senior years would prove to be more successful.

School spirit sparks Juniors sky high

With the Junior-Senior Prom as a top priority, the class of '78 had plenty to occupy their active minds. Many creative money raising projects were included in the annual Junior activities.

The class officers were led by Marita Falkner as President, followed by Suzie Hunter as Vice President, with Shelia Larson as Secretary and Mark

Holloway holding down the position of Treasurer.

As a result of several class meetings, the Juniors secured the necessary Prom money with three planned activities. The first was selling concessions during a pre-season basketball game with Sunset High School. The second successful money maker was sponsoring a dance after the North-Churchill basketball game. The third project took place over several months. Throughout the winter the class officers, with the assistance of a few energetic Juniors, sold Highlander T-shirts to boost school spirit.

Overall the Junior class, with the helpful assistance of advisor Sue Berg, came out with another fulfilled successful year.

Enthusiastic seniors leave North with memories

Being led during their final year by Mary Smith as President; Star Solar, Vice President; Joanne Clark, Secretary; and Bonnie Leslie, Treasurer; the seniors sparkled with enthusiasm. This also marked their fund raising projects which raised enough money to meet graduation costs. Fund raising projects included; a T-shirt sale and the management of the concession stand.

With June on the horizon the seniors began to look forward to baccalaureate, the senior breakfast, awards assembly and mostly to the commencement.

On Sunday evening, the majority of the class attended the baccalaureate, which was a calm and formal affair.

The senior breakfast, held on Tuesday morning at the Thunderbird Inn, proved to be a fun filled event.

The next evening, the cafeteria was filled with 311 nervous seniors dressed in red caps and gowns. At 7:30, the class of '77 entered, and collected their diplomas and left with tears of mixed emotions.

Senior Pam Brown was a well liked Highlander who will be missed by many of her friends and teachers. Pam was a very reserved and soft spoken person and enjoyed hiking and the outdoor activities. She died in late September at her home following an apparent heart failure.

Top Preps

Preps of the Week were awarded to outstanding high school students in various areas of athletics. North had a large percentage of winning teams in which many active Seniors participated. The Eugene Register Guard made these selections to honor the top athletes.

Sue Allison gives the traditional scriptural reading at the Baccalaureate Ceremony.

Students honored at assembly

Hosted by Russ Christopherson and Paula Bachmeier, the 18th Annual Awards Assembly was held Friday, June 10, in the school gymnasium.

Many students from a variety of areas received honors and scholarships. Awards were given for sports, music, speech, publications, and others.

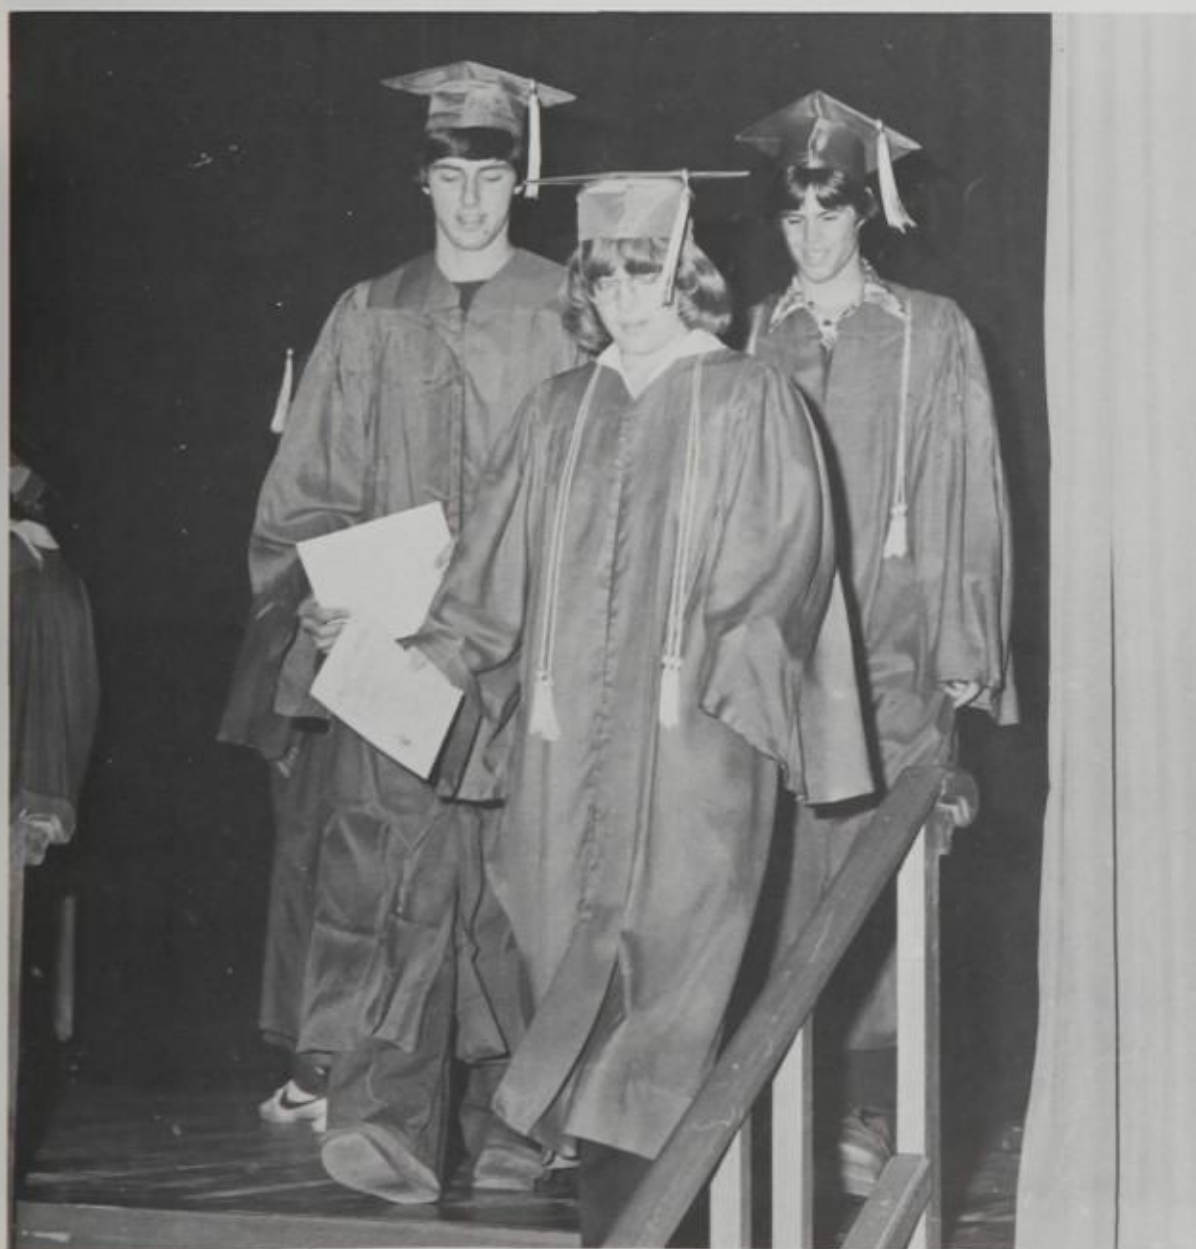

Baccalaureate was held the Sunday before graduation with most of the class present. Sue Allison read the scripture and Dr. Sterling Ellsworth, a Eugene Psychologist, was the guest speaker.

John Snicale seems more than happy to receive his award.

Paula Bachmeier announces the forensic awards while Russ Christopherson hands them out.

Mike O'Neil, Marlene Wegner, and Greg Jacobson all were on hand to accept their scholastic awards.

Kristi Lewis shares her joy with Russ Christopherson.

Snazzy dresser Tom Farrell presents Vic Mills with his award while "enthusiastic" Marty Smith gives him a hand.

Seniors enjoy their becon, egg, and sausage meal at the senior breakfast.

JoAnn Clark receives the "cutest Nose" award at the Senior Breakfast.

Breakfast is big success

The Senior Breakfast was held at the Thunderbird Inn with pant-less Marty Smith and Tom Farrell as hosts.

The Highland Pipers provided music and classmate Kathy Schrenk sang a solo called "Friends."

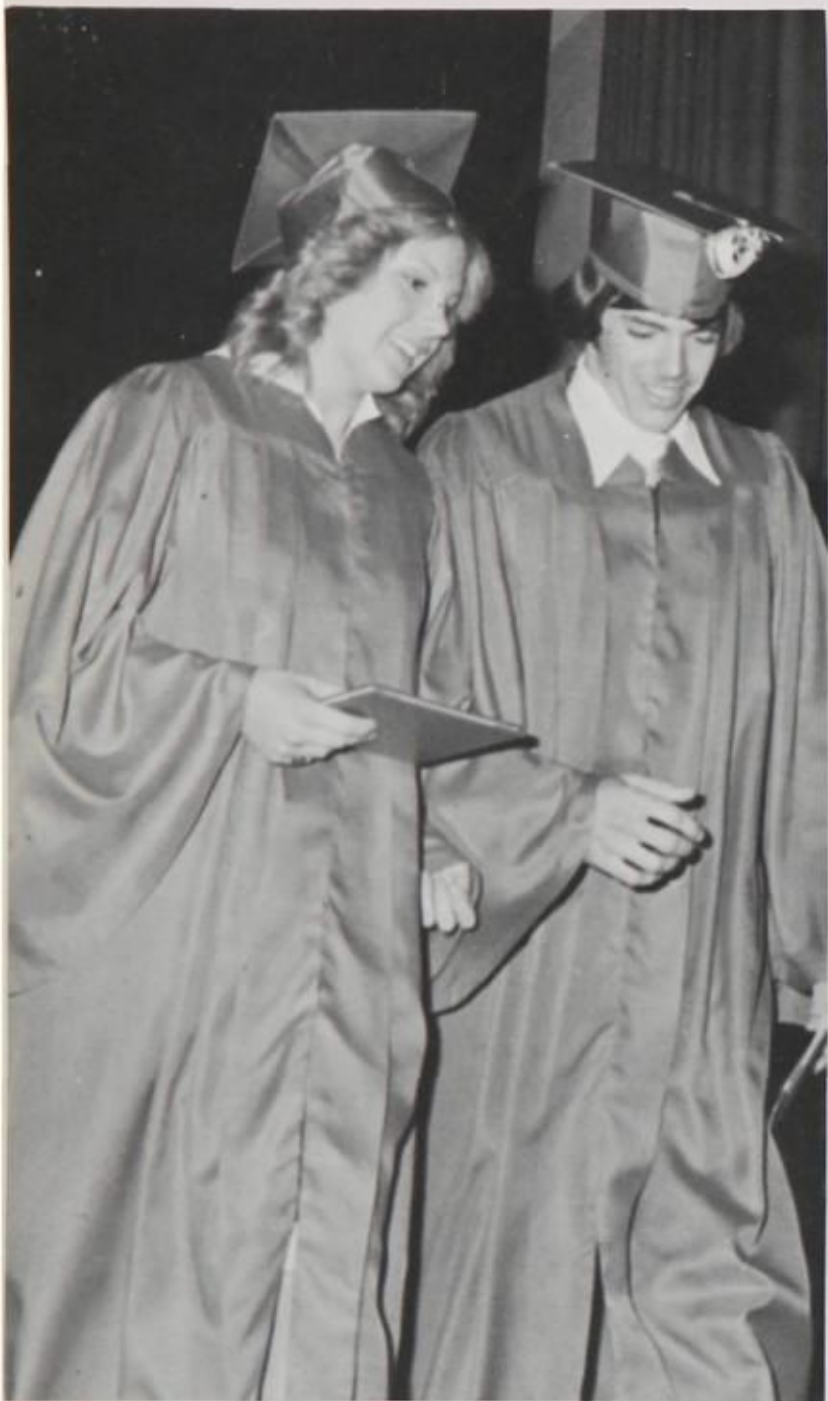

After breakfast, it was on with awards. Some of the winners were: Cheryl Kershner, Most Talkative; Mary Smith and Greg Jacobson, Friendliest; Linda Haneke and Chris Trent, Lavern and Shirley; Paula Bachmeier, Peppiest Senior; Rick Nasholm, Robert Redford; Tracy Berry, Jaclyn Smith; Kristi Lewis and Mike O'Neil, Barbie and Ken; Michelle Cole, Most Outstanding Girl; and a tie for Outstanding Boy with Dan Ainge and Mike O'Neil; The Most Likely to Succeed was Rob Funkhouser.

A happy Kristi Lewis and Mike O'Neil pick up their awards from hosts Farrell and Smith.

Seniors get a laugh as Greg Jacobson is awarded friendliest boy.

Ellie Carlson and Jim Boylan receive their diplomas and leave with memories.

Seniors listen intently to Dr. Esther Matthews at graduation.

Kelley Davis and Mary Smith enter the gym for the last time.

Seniors say final goodbye

The Class of 1977 took their last look at North Eugene High School on June 15. It marked the end of 12 years of hard work.

Friends, relatives, and faculty members filled the gym and auditorium on a rather warm summer evening.

After the processional to the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance," ASB President Marty Smith delivered his farewell speech in hopes that his words might be remembered by his fellow classmates. The other speakers were Dr. Esther Matthews, Professor at the University of Oregon, Jonathon West, School Board Member, and Bert Simmons, Principal.

Adding a musical touch, the A Cappella Choir sang "Times of Our Lives" and the band played "Give It One." Diplomas were then awarded by the Principal.

The class stood up to the school fight song and broke into the Senior spell out. They then marched happily out, together for the last time, to the theme from the movie ROCKY, "Gonna Fly Now."

Marty Smith issues his challenge to the Gradu-

Bob Maier and Donavon Volk share a few words about their years as Highlanders.

Linda Holmes happily flips her tassel.

Robin Wagner, Kim Koepp, and Kathy Anderson check out the program before the graduation ceremony.

Graduation was a time for looking back over all of the busy happy years of study and hard work that led up to the thrilling event.

We could all remember those first confusing days three years ago when we were underclassmen. We came a long way since then and worked hard, but we had fun too.

Graduation wasn't only a time for memories, it was a time to enjoy new freedoms and status as graduates. It was finally our turn to wear those caps and gowns that impressed us so much when senior year seemed ages away.

More than anything, Graduation was a time for looking ahead to putting all our plans and dreams into action. It was a time of celebration too, for reaching all of the goals we'd set . . . and met.

It was our turn to accept the congratulations of family and friends who were proud of us, not only because of what we'd done, but because of what we were.

Lliana Adank

(FITZOSBORNE)

Eric Goldstrand

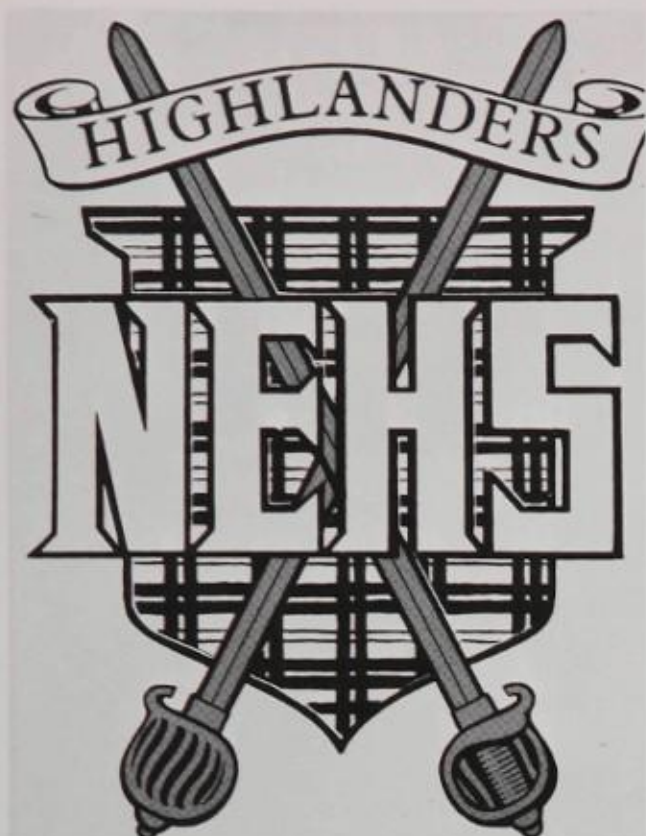

A sad farewell

Two good-natured and fun loving members of the student body, Lliana Adank and Eric Goldstrand died in early June while fishing near an isolated picnic area. They were both shot by an assailant and left at the picnic site.

Lliana, a sophomore, and Eric, a junior, were described by many as happy, friendly kids who had been dating for most of the school year.

They will be remembered by classmates as outgoing personalities who were better than average students. They had died young but their impressions on the lives of many would never be forgotten.
